1. What does this document do?

GRS Transmittal 28 announces changes to the General Records Schedules (GRS) made since NARA published GRS Transmittal 27 in January 2017. The GRS provide mandatory disposition instructions for records common to several or all Federal agencies. We are nearing to the end of our five-year plan to completely rewrite the GRS. With Transmittal 28, 92% of old items are now superseded.

Transmittal 28 includes only schedules newly issued or updated since the last transmittal, those schedules' associated new-to-old crosswalks and FAQs, an update to the FAQs for GRS 6.1 (but not schedule 6.1 itself, which remains unchanged), and an update to the FAQs about Flexible Dispositions. This means that many current GRS schedules are not included in this Transmittal. You can find all schedules (in Word, PDF and CSV formats), crosswalks and FAQs for all schedules, and FAQs about the whole GRS at <http://www.archives.gov/records-mgmt/grs.html>. At the same location, you can also find the entire GRS (just schedules—no crosswalks or FAQs) in a single document.

2. What changes does this transmittal make to the GRS?

GRS Transmittal 28 publishes nine new schedules:

GRS 2.1	Employee Acquisition Records	DAA-GRS-2014-0002
GRS 2.2	Employee Management Records	DAA-GRS-2017-0007
GRS 2.3	Employee Relations Records	DAA-GRS-2015-0007
GRS 2.4	Employee Compensation and Benefits Records	DAA-GRS-2016-0015
GRS 5.1	Common Office Records	DAA-GRS-2016-0016
GRS 5.2	Transitory and Intermediary Records	DAA-GRS-2017-0003
GRS 5.6	Security Records	DAA-GRS-2017-0006
GRS 5.8	Administrative Help Desk Records	DAA-GRS-2017-0001
GRS 6.5	Public Customer Service Records	DAA-GRS-2017-0002

This transmittal also publishes a new item in one schedule: GRS 1.1, Financial Management and Reporting Records (see question 3). In addition, it supersedes in its entirety GRS 4.3, Input Records, Output Records, and Electronic Copies (see question 4).

The table of contents shows some alterations to previously published schedule titles. Research led us to conclude that it is not possible at this time to write a GRS for legal records, so the number assigned to that anticipated schedule--GRS 6.3—has been assigned instead to Information Technology Records. A new schedule for rulemaking records is GRS 6.6. Both 6.3 and 6.6 should be published in Transmittal 29.

This transmittal publishes a revised Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) for GRS 6.1. The revisions include adding new GRS citations where appropriate; removing unnecessary references to some CFR citations in Q3; clarifying Q4 text; clarifying culling in Q22; and clarifying how to report calendars, appointments, tasks, chat transcripts, and other communications on NA-1005 in Q27. Finally, this transmittal publishes updated FAQs on Flexible Dispositions, adding a new Q6 about batching records for disposal.

3. How has GRS 1.1 changed? How might these changes affect my agency?

We added one new item (080) to cover administrative claims made by or against the Federal Government. We also added three new questions to the GRS 1.1 FAQs concerning travel receipts scanned into e-systems (question 9), audit records (question 16) and use of item 080 (question 18).

4. Why did you delete GRS 4.3?

We deleted GRS 4.3, Input Records, Output Records, and Electronic Copies, because we have superseded its seven items with two new items in GRS 5.1 and 5.2. We superseded GRS 4.3, item 040, Non-recordkeeping copies of electronic records, with the closely parallel and identically titled GRS 5.1, item 020. We moved it to 5.1 to place it in context with other common office records. The new item is media-neutral. We superseded GRS 4.3, items 010, 011, 020, 030, 031, and 040 with GRS 5.2, item 020, Intermediary records. We found we could gather records of various formats from various sources into a single unit by recognizing this unifying trait: they are stopping points en route to a final record scheduled elsewhere.

7. What GRS items does GRS Transmittal 28 rescind?

Many old GRS items are superseded by new GRS items. A few old items, however, have outlived their usefulness and cannot be crosswalked to new items. The table below lists old items newly rescinded by GRS Transmittal 28.

GRS	Item	Title	Reason
1	1a	Official Personnel Folders: Transferred employees	Was simply a filing/handling instruction and never had an associated disposition authority.
1	2a 2b	Service Record Cards	The Service Record Card (SF 7) became obsolete in 1994.
1	6	Employee Record Cards	The Employee Record Card (SF 7b) became obsolete in 1993.
1	7a1	Position Classification Standards Files	Non-record technical reference in all agencies but OPM, where they are mission records.
1	7a2b	Position Classification Standards Review Files	No longer exist in the electronic world. If on paper, they are non-record duplicates.
1	7c1	Classification survey reports	OPM believes these records no longer exist.
1	7c2	Inspection, audit, and survey files
1	11	Position Identification Strips	These records no longer exist.

1	13	Incentive Awards Program Reports	Agencies are no longer required to complete OPM Form 1465. Instead, OPM extracts data from the Enterprise Human Resources Integration-Statistical Data Mart to report Government-wide data on cash and time-off awards.
1	25b	Copies of EEO Complaint Case Files	These are non-record duplicates.
1	25e	Employee Housing Requests	Item does not appear to be in use.
1	33d	Test Material Stock Control	Blank unused forms are not records.
1	33h	Letters to Applicants Denying Transfer of Eligibility	OPM Form 4896 is obsolete and the entire work process no longer exists.
1	35b1	Health benefits denied, appealed to OPM for reconsideration: Appeal successful - benefits granted	Replaced by GRS 2.4, item 110. Like the old item, the new item instructs about filing, not disposition. As a result, it cannot be entered into ERA so cannot supersede the old. The old item must therefore be rescinded.
2	1a	Pay record for each employee as maintained in an electronic data base	Item was not a disposition instruction but rather an instruction to make sure the current record is full and correct.
2	2	Noncurrent Payroll Files	Item authorized periodic disposal of system data after long-term records were downloaded and safeguarded. Such data is now covered under 5.1, item 020.
2	14a 14b 14c	Savings Bond Purchase Files	Paper savings bond purchase via payroll deduction was discontinued in 2010. Payroll deductions under the current TreasuryDirect e-system are covered in GRS 2.4, item 010.
2	23b	Payroll Change Files: all other files	Electronic payroll processing means these records no longer exist.
26	1b	Internal agency committees related to an agency's mission	Item is not a disposition instruction. It tells agencies to submit a schedule for records. Now handled via a note in GRS 5.1, item 030.

Rescinded items are shown in context of their schedules in the old-to-new crosswalk.

8. How do I cite new GRS items?

When you send records to an FRC for storage, you should cite the records' legal authority—the "DAA" number—in the "Disposition Authority" column of the table. For informational purposes, please include schedule and item number. For example, "DAA-GRS-2017-0007-0008 (GRS 2.2, item 070)."

9. Do I have to take any action to implement these GRS changes?

NARA regulations (36 CFR 1226.12(a)) require agencies to disseminate GRS changes within six months of receipt.

Per 36 CFR 1227.12(a)(1), you must follow GRS dispositions that state they must be followed without exception.

Per 36 CFR 1227.12(a)(3), if you have an existing schedule that differs from a new GRS item that does not require being followed without exception, and you wish to continue using your agency-specific authority rather than the GRS authority, you must notify NARA within 120 days of the date of this transmittal.

If you do not have an already existing agency-specific authority but wish to apply a retention period that differs from that specified in the GRS, you must submit a records schedule to NARA for approval via the Electronic Records Archives.

10. How do I get copies of the new GRS?

You can download the complete current GRS, in PDF format, from NARA's web site at <http://www.archives.gov/records-mgmt/grs.html>.

11. Whom do I contact for further information?

Writing and maintaining the GRS is the responsibility of the GRS Team. You may contact the team with general questions about the GRS at GRS_Team@nara.gov. This team is part of Records Management Services in the National Records Management Program of the Office of the Chief Records Officer at NARA.

Your agency's records officer may contact the NARA appraiser or records analyst with whom your agency normally works for support in carrying out this transmittal. A list of the appraisal and scheduling work group and regional contacts is on the NARA web site at <http://www.archives.gov/records-mgmt/appraisal/index.html>.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 1.1: Financial Management and Reporting Records

This schedule covers records created by Federal agencies in carrying out the work of financial management: procuring goods and services, paying bills, collecting debts, accounting for all financial transactions, and monitoring agencies' net worth. It does not apply to copies of records forwarded to the Department of Treasury or the Office of Management and Budget in fulfillment of reporting requirements. These forwarded copies serve unique business purposes at those agencies and are therefore scheduled separately as records of OMB and Treasury.

This schedule covers financial management records of grants and cooperative agreements but does not cover administrative records of such grants and agreements. These administrative records are covered in GRS 1.2.

This schedule covers financial transactions and reporting but not overall planning for finance. These records are covered under current GRS 5, anticipated to be replaced by future GRS 1.3.

This schedule covers contract records maintained by Federal agencies but not records maintained by contractors, which are governed by 48 CFR 4, subpart 4.7.

This schedule covers financial transactions as an administrative function common to all agencies, but not administrative records documenting unique agency missions, such as student loan collection or seeking reimbursement for Superfund cleanups.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) about GRS 1.1, Financial Management and Reporting Records

Revised July 2017

INTRODUCTION

1. What is the purpose of GRS 1.1?

This schedule provides disposition authority for records created and received in the course of carrying out an agency's financial management and reporting responsibilities.

2. From whom may I request more information about this schedule?

You may contact NARA's General Records Schedules Team at GRS_Team@nara.gov with questions about this schedule.

CHANGES FROM THE OLD GRS

3. How does GRS 1.1 differ from the old GRS?

The biggest difference is the amalgamation of 34 items in old GRS 3, 4, 6, 7, and 9 into one item (010) covering financial transaction records (see details in the GRS 1.1 Crosswalk). This change occurred as a result of the new GRS aligning where feasible with the Federal Enterprise Architecture Lines-of-Business model. Under this model, the GRS groups records by the business processes that create them. The related business processes of paying bills and collecting debts—and accounting for both—are further consolidated by the fact that all share a single audit. Uniting these records under a single schedule item is also useful because most financial transactions are now conducted electronically and their documentation is born digital. Many large e-systems contain records covered by most or even all of the 34 old items superseded by new item 010.

Two new items cover records not before scheduled by the GRS: Records supporting compilation of agency financial statements and related audit, and all records of all other reports (item 020) and property, plant, equipment and other asset accounting (item 030).

4. Why did you intermingle travel and transportation records with financial management records in items 010 and 011 when they were in a separate schedule in the old GRS?

Several items in GRS 9, Travel and Transportation Records, covered records documenting movement of people (travel) and movement of goods (transportation). While the logistics of arranging for travel and transportation may be a distinct business process, at root many of these records document paying money in exchange for services and agencies retain them primarily to enable financial audit. That is why we have folded them into items 010 and 011, which cover a wide range of financial transaction records.

5. Why are you removing items that were in the old GRS?

The following old GRS items that most logically would have mapped to this schedule are rescinded:

GRS item	Series title	Explanation
GRS 3/3b	Routine Procurement— Obligation copy	This copy of a multi-copy form was to keep an obligation on the radar screen until funds were in fact obligated. Hard copies no longer exist in the e-system work-process pipeline.
GRS 3/15a	Contract Appeals Case Files created prior to October 1979	No longer needed because all such records should have been destroyed as of 1986.
GRS 3/16	Contractor’s Statement of Contingent or Other Fees	SF 119 is no longer in the GSA forms library. The Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) was amended (see FAR case 93-009, published in the Federal Register November 13, 1995) to state that these statements are no longer required.
GRS 6/2	GAO Exceptions Files	SF 1100 no longer exists.
GRS 6/6a1 GRS 6/6a2 GRS 6/6b	Federal Personnel Surety Bond Files	According to 31 USC 9302, surety bonds posted by the government concerning Federal personnel were discontinued by Public Law 97-258 in 1982.
GRS 6/9	Telegrams filed to support telegraph bills	These no longer exist.
GRS 8/7b1 GRS 8/7b2 GRS 8/7b3	Cost Report Data Files: Detail cards Cost Report Data Files: Summary cards Cost Report Data Files: Tabulations	These three items are unchanged since GRS 8 was first published in 1952. They refer to an ancient system of electronic tabulation via key-punch cards. The records are no longer created nor have they been for possibly three decades. No records are in FRCs.

QUESTIONS RELATED TO ITEM 010

6. Why is the retention of accountable officers’ records reduced from 6 years and 3 months to 6 years?

From the advent of the GRS in 1952 until 1977, general financial management records were retained for 6 years. The change in retention for some records to 6 years and 3 months was codified in 1977 by schedule job number NC1-064-77-5, apparently in response to 28 USC 2415. This law set the Government’s right to litigate on behalf of a recognized American Indian band or tribe to “six years and ninety days” while for all other purposes the Government’s right to litigate ceases after 6 years (28 USC 2401). Item 010 returns all financial transactions to 6-year retention except for those transactions concerning recognized American Indian bands or tribes, which are excluded from the GRS. Serious issues surround accounts concerning American Indian band/tribal finances. Litigation has put these records into frozen status unlikely to be altered any time soon. They will likely be ultimately scheduled for long-term temporary or even permanent retention. Their appraisal must be made on a case-by-case basis, which is outside the scope of the GRS.

7. My agency, seeking to get away from the awkward 6-year-3-month retention period, already scheduled accountable officers’ and similar financial records for 7-year retention. Which takes precedence: my agency’s 7-year retention or the GRS 6-year retention?

Your agency can choose whether to follow the GRS new 6-year retention or continue to retain records for 7 years in keeping with its agency-specific schedule. Retaining the records for 7 years might be necessary if your agency folded financial management records along with other administrative records into a single bucket item with 7-year retention. In such a case, it may not be possible to extract the financial management records from the bucket item without destroying the bucket.

8. If my agency chooses to continue using its own 7-year schedule item instead of the GRS, must it notify NARA?

It depends. The GRS permits business-purpose retention beyond 6 years. If your agency updates its manual to cite new GRS 1.1, item 010, as the authority for its 7-year retention, you do not need to notify NARA. If your agency has a previously approved deviation-from-the-GRS authority (such as a big bucket schedule item that merges financial management records with other series) and wishes to continue using that authority to mandate agency-wide 7-year retention, it must notify NARA of this fact. In part, this is because the agency will be retiring records to storage under its own authority citation rather than the GRS authority citation. Federal Records Centers receiving these records need to know what agency items are authoritative.

9. If I scan paper travel receipts into an e-system as voucher attachments, can I destroy the original paper?

Yes, as long as you meet both of the following prerequisites. First, your agency must identify the e-system as the repository for vouchers available for audit by the Government Accountability Office (GAO). Your agency must retain the records in this e-system for 6 years, per GRS 1.1, item 010. Second, the scanned image must contain everything available in the original paper. GAO states, "There shouldn't be anything on the paper that isn't reflected in the electronic version."¹ If these two conditions are met, the original paper travel receipts may, after the scanned image is verified to contain all information in the original, be destroyed per GRS 5.2, item 020.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 011

10. Why is item 010 followed by an item (011) for "all other copies" but none of the other items have a similar all-other-copies counterpart?

Records in item 010 are in many cases likely to have extra copies retained in other business units for a separate business purpose. For instance, a purchase order may exist in multiple copies not only where it is held for financial audit but also in accounts payable, shipping and receiving, and other offices. These are not non-record copies held for convenience, but records retained for specific and unique business purposes. Because the record copy is retained for audit, the other copies can be disposed of when their business use ceases. Copies of records covered by other items in this schedule are more likely to be held simply for convenience. They serve no unique business purpose, are therefore non-record by definition, and do not need to be scheduled.

QUESTIONS RELATED TO ITEM 012

11. Does this item cover all unsolicited and all unaccepted bids?

¹ This statement was made by a GAO representative to NARA's GRS Team on January 24, 2017.

No. This item covers only bids that are both unsolicited and unaccepted. These bids have a much shorter retention period than bids that are unsolicited but accepted or solicited but unaccepted. (Item 010 of this schedule addresses both these latter types of bids.) Any accepted bids have obvious business and legal value documenting a contract, and any solicited bids have further value if there are legal challenges to the contract award. Bids that agencies neither solicit nor accept do not fulfill continuing business purposes and agencies thus do not need to retain them for long.

12. Does this item’s disposition mesh with the Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR)?

The FAR Implementation Team, which drafted the update to the FAR published in the Federal Register on December 4, 2015, requested that we add this item. The FAR update contains directions to dispose of these materials “in accordance with agency procedures” (80 FR 75913). That instruction is consistent with this item’s disposition to destroy “when no longer required for business use.” So, yes, this item’s disposition meshes with the FAR.

QUESTIONS RELATED TO ITEM 013

13. Why did you move data submitted to the Federal Procurement Data System (FPDS)—originally part of big-bucket item 010—to granular item 013?

These records were a standalone item in the old GRS but we merged them with many other old GRS items into the original publication of GRS 1.1, item 010. However, item 010 covers records relating to individual financial transactions; the records now being moved to item 013 do not concern such transactions. Instead, these records monitor equity and transparency in the Government procurement process. Agencies retain both items 010 and 013 for 6 years, but calculate the retention period for item 013 from record creation (submission to FPDS), and calculate the retention period for item 010 from record close (final action on a particular procurement or collection activity), potentially years after creation. For these reasons, we are returning data submitted to FPDS to a standalone schedule item.

14. Why does this item cover only an agency’s copy of the data it submitted to FPDS, but not the master data held in FPDS itself?

The GRS covers records common to multiple agencies. FPDS is a system owned by the General Services Administration (GSA). Although multiple agencies own and submit the system’s source data, once collected in FPDS the data is unique to GSA and GSA must schedule it. As a result, the GRS does not cover the data within the FPDS. GSA’s FPDS master data is permanent under N1-137-96-1, item 1. For this reason, agency-retained copies of their own submitted data are temporary.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 020

15. Item 020 is for background materials used to prepare an annual agency financial statement. Why isn’t there an item for the agency financial statements themselves?

Agency financial statements have been required from all agencies since 1997 per the Government Management Reform Act (1994) section 405, now codified in 31 CFR 3515. Only a few agencies have scheduled these records, with wide disparity in retention periods. They are also sometimes scheduled as part of a larger series of reporting records that include more than financial reporting. We were unable to determine a universally applicable value to these records by the time of publication of this schedule and did not wish to hold up the schedule while waiting to resolve the one issue. We may, however, be able to revisit this at a future time.

16. Does this item cover records of all audits?

This item covers records of an agency's audits of its annual financial statement—the assessment of its assets' market value. It does not cover records of other financial or non-financial audits.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 030

17. Besides being included in item 030, purchase orders, contracts, and invoices also appear in item 010. How can I tell which item is the correct one for my records?

Purchase orders, contracts, and invoices appear in item 010 when they document financial transactions subject to audit to ensure that government spends its resources appropriately and within the confines of the law. Some of those purchase orders, contracts and invoices serve as a baseline to document agency investment in "property, plant and equipment" (PP&E) assets, and these are the subject of item 030.

Determining the value of PP&E assets involves knowing the original purchase price and the rate of amortization over the course of years. Many assets eventually wear out and are removed from inventory, while others (such as real estate and structures) may have a usable life of many decades or remain in government ownership to the end of the republic.

The same records may exist in both the financial management and the PP&E asset accounting offices. They are scheduled differently based on the business purpose the records serve in each office. Their retention is 6 years in item 010 to ensure their availability for financial audit. But their retention in item 030 may be for many decades. For this reason, it is advisable that duplicates of purchase orders, contracts, and invoices concerning PP&E assets be supplied to that office for inclusion in the files documenting those assets that are covered by item 030.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 080

18. Does this item cover foreign claims received and adjudicated by the Department of State (DOS) or the Foreign Claims Settlement Commission (FCSC)?

No. DOS or FCSC are the only Federal agencies that adjudicate foreign claims. Records of those claims are mission records at those agencies and therefore not eligible for inclusion in the GRS, which addresses administrative records common across many or all Federal agencies. Both DOS and FCSC have scheduled these records themselves. Administrative claims may also occur at both DOS and FCSC. When they do, the records of their adjudications are indeed covered by GRS 1.1, item 080.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 2.1: Employee Acquisition Records

This schedule covers records agencies create in the process of hiring employees for Federal civilian service, whether career service, senior executive service, political appointment, excepted service appointment, or temporary/special appointment. It also covers records documenting job or position descriptions and classification. The Office of Personnel Management (OPM) exercises oversight of many—but not all—Federal agencies’ employee selection processes. Its procedural rules and best practices are spelled out in its “Delegated Examining Operations Handbook.” This schedule reflects OPM’s determinations on appropriate records retention periods.

This schedule applies only to civilian employee hiring records, although in both civilian and military agencies. Military staff selection follows very different processes and creates records that are unique to only a few agencies. Therefore these records are not covered in the GRS.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) about GRS 2.1, Employee Acquisition Records

July 2017

INTRODUCTION

1. What is the purpose of GRS 2.1?

This schedule provides disposition authority for records agencies create and receive in the course of bringing employees into the Federal workforce.

2. Whom do I contact for further information about this schedule?

You may contact NARA's General Records Schedules Team at GRS_Team@nara.gov with questions about this schedule.

GENERAL QUESTIONS

3. Does GRS 2.1 supersede the disposition instructions in the "Delegated Examining Operations Handbook: A Guide for Federal Agency Examining Offices (May 2007), Appendix C," published by the Office of Personnel Management (OPM)?

Yes. "Delegated Examining Operations Handbook: A Guide for Federal Agency Examining Offices" covers in detail how agencies with authority to hire employees, as delegated from the Office of Personnel Management, are to carry out this function. Appendix C is the schedule for records created in that process. Appendix C derives from GRS 1, items 33a through 33t. All but two items in GRS 1 are superseded (and the other two are rescinded) by new GRS 2.1. As these GRS 1 items are now superseded by GRS 2.1, GRS 2.1 supersedes Appendix C. See crosswalk for details.

4. Why did you rescind old GRS 1, item 7a1?

GRS 1, item 7a1, Position Classification Standards Files, are maintained as records by one agency only: the Office of Personnel Management (OPM). Records held by a single agency are not appropriately included in the GRS. In every other agency, these standards are non-record technical reference material and need no schedule to authorize disposition.

5. Why did you rescind old GRS 1, item 7a2b?

GRS 1, item 7a2b, "Review file" for position classification standards, no longer exists in the electronic milieu. Even in a paper world, it is highly unlikely that anyone separates out a file of papers for "review" that are not duplicates of the record copies in the case file.

6. Why did you rescind old GRS 1, items 7c1 and 7c2?

Agencies no longer create GRS 1, items 7c1 and 7c2, Position Classification Survey Files.

7. Why did you rescind old GRS 1, item 11?

GRS 1, item 11, covered “position identification strip” forms, which no longer exist. The form was made obsolete in 1994.

8. Why did you rescind old GRS 1, items 33d and 33h?

GRS 1, item 33d, Test Material Stock Control, covered material only at the Office of Personnel Management (OPM). This item is therefore inappropriate for the GRS. GRS 1, item 33h, Letters to Applicants Denying Transfer of Eligibility, covered OPM Form 4896, which is no longer in use. In fact, the entire work process it concerned is defunct because the Government no longer transfers eligibility from one register to another.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 010

9. Why doesn't this item cover OPM records?

OPM, as part of its mission, prepares the majority of classification standards applicable to positions in individual agencies, multiple agencies, and the entire Federal Government. These case files are permanent (NC1-146-84-1, item 1a). Item 010 covers the corresponding case file at an agency seeking to create a new classification standard specific to itself, a few agencies, or in rare cases, the entire Government. These are administrative files at all agencies other than OPM and it is therefore appropriate to include them in the GRS. The corresponding OPM files are, however, unique to OPM's mission. OPM must therefore must schedule them on an agency-specific schedule.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 021

10. Why doesn't this item have a disposition authority?

This item is not an independent disposition authority because the records are filed in places already covered by other disposition authorities, such as that covering the employee's official personnel file. Users must go to those other authorities to learn when to destroy records.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 022

11. This item includes “other copies” of records described in item 020. Why is it necessary to include such an item for “other copies”?

Various offices in an agency might develop case files for position descriptions (PDs), most notably the program office where the position will exist. Once the PD is final, its official record resides with the agency Human Resources function and is covered by item 020. Item 022 covers background material created by any office in the course of building a PD, and also convenience copies of final PDs held by offices to document their own positions.

QUESTIONS RELATED TO ITEM 030

12. What is a classification appeal?

An employee who believes his or her position description is inappropriately graded or no longer reflects its actual responsibilities may file a classification appeal seeking to alter the grade or description. Only an employee can originate an appeal; an agency cannot appeal a classification to OPM. The appeal may be made either to an agency's HR function or directly to OPM. In either event, the agency creates a case file to track the appeal's progress and OPM's final decision.

13. Why are OPM records not covered by this item?

Position classification, as discussed in the answer to question 9, is part of OPM's mission. Therefore, records of OPM's involvement in appeal and review case files are also not appropriate for the GRS and are instead scheduled on an OPM-specific records schedule.

QUESTIONS RELATED TO ITEM 040

14. Why is the classification certificate not combined with the classification appeal file (item 030) in a single item?

A classification certificate is the document closing an appeal of a position classification. While it is arguably the conclusion of the appeal file, it takes on new life as integral documentation of a position's classification. As such, it must be retained as long as the PD is active, which may be for many years. The rest of the appeal file (item 030) is material documenting how the final decision was reached. These background records do not need to be retained as long as the certificate itself.

15. Why are OPM records not covered by this item?

Position classification, as discussed in the answer to question 9, is part of OPM's mission. Certificates received by agencies regarding their own positions document classification activities that take place in all agencies across Government; as such, it is appropriate to include them in the GRS. The certificates retained by OPM are OPM-specific records documenting the agency carrying out its mission, and must be covered by an OPM-specific schedule.

QUESTIONS RELATED TO ITEMS 050 AND 051

16. Why do these items supersede so many items in the previous GRS?

The previous GRS, particularly the 21 sub-items in GRS 1/33 (records created as part of posting Federal jobs and hiring new staff), divided these records into very small units with relatively small differences in retention periods. These small units of records were linked to a paper-based process which has largely been replaced by electronic systems. It is more efficient for electronic systems to dispose of an entire case file all at once, when possible, rather than piecemeal. This GRS revision reflects that and other current business practice and efficiencies.

17. Why do these items not authorize longer retention if required for business use?

The regulation governing these records (5 CFR 335.103), requires agencies to retain them for 2 years or until after formal program evaluation by OPM, whichever occurs first. We chose a blanket 2-year retention—the outside limit required by the regulation—for ease of implementation. There is no express provision in the regulation for longer retention, and agencies may find that longer retention opens them to liability.

QUESTIONS RELATED TO ITEM 060

18. Why does this item supersede so many items in the previous GRS?

The answer to question 16 for items 050 and 051 applies here as well. This item supersedes a number of old GRS items ranging in retention from “destroy immediately” to 2 years. The fact that the process of submitting an application for Federal employment has become entirely electronic necessitates a unified item with a single retention period.

19. Why does this item not authorize longer retention if required for business use?

Item 060 does not authorize longer retention because the online site USAJobs enforces a strict policy of applications self-destructing one year from the day of submission. Also, risk is increased if job vacancy case files (items 050 and 051) are destroyed as required by law but duplicates of records are retained longer by other offices under item 060.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 090

20. How can I know when the clock starts ticking on destruction of these records? When does right to appeal a non-selection expire?

According to 5 CFR 300.104, each agency can set its own time limit for filing appeals. Check with your agency General Counsel. It is important to retain these records until the time specified in the disposition instruction to protect both the right of a non-selectee to appeal the decision and to protect your agency in justifying its selection.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEMS 100, 101, AND 102

21. Why do these items exclude Presidential appointment records?

Records documenting Presidential appointments are often high-profile and a subject of great interest to the research community. Since we cannot state that these records are always temporary or always permanent across the entire Government, we cannot include them in the GRS. Each agency must schedule its records on Presidential appointments on an agency-specific records schedule.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEMS 120 AND 130

22. What specific programs are covered under special hiring authority?

Exact names of special programs may vary from year to year. The current list is available at <https://www.opm.gov/policy-data-oversight/hiring-information/hiring-authorities/>, the section at the bottom of the page entitled “Special Employment Programs.” In general, these are temporary hiring authorities and often seasonal. A good example is student summer-hire programs.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEMS 140 AND 141

23. Why don't these items have a disposition authority?

The disposition instruction for both these items directs the user to forward the records elsewhere. The user is not responsible for disposal. These records are ultimately incorporated into other records series scheduled under other authorities.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEMS 150 AND 160

24. Why don't these items cover OPM's records?

OPM has authority for hiring Federal employees. It may delegate this authority under 5 U.S.C. § 1104 to heads of other agencies; this delegation makes it possible for other agencies to post job openings and interview and hire employees. These activities are administrative at all agencies other than OPM. Since hiring Federal employees is an OPM mission function, it must schedule its copies of these records separately.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) about GRS 2.2, Employee Management Records

July 2017

1. What is the purpose of GRS 2.2?

This schedule provides disposition authority for records Federal agencies when managing employees. Topics include personnel actions and files, employee performance records, and supervisors' records. This GRS addresses records of Federal civilian employment and volunteer service.

2. Whom do I contact for further information about this schedule?

Please contact NARA's General Records Schedules Team at GRS_Team@nara.gov with questions about this schedule.

CHANGES FROM THE OLD GRS

3. How does GRS 2.2 differ from the old GRS?

GRS 2.2 updates many existing authorities from GRS 1, as well as a few items located in GRS 9 and GRS 21.

We added 6 new items to this schedule:

Item 020, Workforce and succession planning records

Item 092, Records related to official passports- Passports

Item 100, Volunteer service program administrative records

Items 110 and 111, Volunteer service case files

Item 120, Skill set records

4. Which old GRS items did you rescind, and why?

We rescinded 5 items, all from GRS 1. Item 1a served as a filing/handling instruction and never had an associated NARA disposition authority. Items 2a and 2b covered the Service Record Card (SF 7) which became obsolete in 1994. Item 6 provided disposition authority for the Employee Record Card (SF 7b) system which became obsolete in 1993. We rescinded item 13, Incentive Awards Program Reports, because agencies are no longer required to complete OPM Form 1465. OPM now uses awards data extracted from the Enterprise Human Resources Integration-Statistical Data Mart to report Government-wide data on cash and time-off awards.

QUESTIONS RELATED TO ITEM 020

5. What is succession planning?

OPM defines succession planning as the “process where organizations identify those positions considered to be at the core of the organization—too critical to be left vacant or filled by any but the best qualified persons—and then creating a strategic plan to fill them with experienced and capable employees.” 5 U.S.C. 412. 201 requires the head of each agency, in consultation with OPM, to establish a management succession program.

6. Why did you exclude records maintained by executives responsible for policy formulation or other high-level actions from this item? How do I schedule these records?

Records documenting executive-level decisions and actions are often considered permanent records. Therefore, agencies should submit agency-specific schedules for these records.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 030

7. Why do records of Department-level awards require agency-specific schedules?

Department-level awards are often awarded for distinguished or meritorious service. As such, such awards are high-profile and records documenting them are potentially of great interest to the research community. Since we cannot state that these records are always temporary or always permanent across the entire Federal Government, we cannot include them in the GRS. Each agency must schedule its records for Department-level awards on an agency-specific records schedule.

QUESTIONS RELATED TO ITEM 040

8. Why did you exclude Official Personnel Folders (OPFs) for employees who separated prior to December 31, 1973, from this item? Who is responsible for scheduling these older OPFs?

GRS 2.2 does not provide disposition authority for pre-1973 Official Personnel Folders (OPFs) because their value has not been decided. NARA has determined that it is the responsibility of OPM to schedule these records, given that OPM is the owner of the records subject to OPM recordkeeping requirements. Agencies may have physical possession (custody) of such records, but they do not schedule them.

9. Why did you change the retention period for long-term records (item 040) to “when survivor or retirement claims are adjudicated or when records are 129 years old, whichever is sooner” from “65 years after separation from Federal service” (old GRS 1, item 1b)?

OPM relies on long-term Official Personnel Folders (OPFs) as a supplemental source of documentation when making decisions about retirement benefits, death benefits, and survivor benefits payable to annuitants and beneficiaries. The 129-year retention comes from 5 U.S.C. 8466, which allows an employee to seek benefits based on Federal service through 115 years old, or a beneficiary to seek benefits up to 30 years from the event which entitled them to the benefits (death of the employee). If we assume a person could not be an employee at younger than 16 years old, and may seek their benefits until they are 115 years old, then the person's OPF records could be up to 99 years old. It is possible for a beneficiary to seek benefits for an additional 30 years under the statute. Thus, the 129-year disposition.

QUESTIONS RELATED TO ITEMS 040 AND 041

10. Why do items 040 and 041 still refer to hardcopy Official Personnel Folders (OPFs)? Hasn't the entire Government adopted the eOPF system as of 2014?

No, some agencies continue to maintain OPFs in hardcopy and have not migrated to eOPF. As a result, we left the reference to hardcopies in these items.

11. Why do you exclude agencies not subject to OPM recordkeeping requirements under title 5, U.S. Code, from Items 040 and 041?

We excluded agencies not subject to OPM recordkeeping requirements from using this schedule for three important reasons. First, this GRS conforms to OPM recordkeeping requirements, and OPM has the authority to establish requirements only on those records created under its oversight. Second, while it is tempting to assign the same legal minimum retention period to all other personnel folders as well, this is best determined, when possible, by each agency for itself. Agencies not subject to OPM recordkeeping requirements either operate their own employment systems or participate in another agency's employment system. Employees under these different systems may be paid under a different pay plan, have different rights to appeal and file grievances, or accrue time towards retirement differently from employees under OPM's employment system. Third, we established a legal minimum retention period of 129 years for the OPFs covered under item 040. We would not want to impose such a long retention on other agency personnel folders when we know their retirement systems are different and they may not need the records as long.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 050

12. What is Standard Form 50?

Notification of Personnel Action (Standard Form 50), scheduled by item 050, notifies the employee and the payroll office of a change in status, such as reassignment or pay increase, and records that action in the employee's Official Personnel Folder.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 060

14. What is an Employment Eligibility Verification form I-9? What is E-Verify and how does it relate to the I-9?

Agency personnel offices use form I-9 to verify the identity and employment authorization of new hires and to re-verify the status of employees who transfer between agencies. E-Verify is a web-based system managed by the U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS). Agencies use the system to compare information from an employee's form I-9 to system data, which enables the employer to confirm or "verify" employment eligibility.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 070

15. Why does the GRS not cover performance records of Presidential appointees? How do I schedule these records?

Presidential appointees are often high-profile and a subject of great interest to the research community. Since we cannot state that records documenting their service are always temporary or always permanent across the entire Federal Government, we cannot include them in the GRS. Each agency must schedule its records on Presidential appointments on an agency-specific records schedule.

QUESTIONS RELATED TO ITEMS 090, 091 and 092

16. What are official passports?

Official passports, also known as special issuance passport books, are issued to people who travel outside the United States on Government business. A holder of an official passport may also have a personal passport for use when traveling outside the United States for personal business or pleasure; personal passports are not Federal records and are not scheduled by the GRS.

17. Why do you exclude records held at the Department of State from these items?

The Department of State maintains agency and dependent requests for passports as part of its mission-specific function. As a result, this GRS does not cover them. State covers its mission records under an agency-specific schedule.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 092

18. Why did you include a filing instruction for official passports of transferred or separated agency personnel?

Some agencies have scheduled these records, so this instruction provides clarity about steps any agency should take when the passports are no longer needed.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 110

19. Why did you exclude service records for certain volunteers from this item? Does the GRS cover these individuals?

The volunteers whose records are excluded from this item ultimately have Official Personnel Folders (OPFs). Once those OPFs are created, records that otherwise would be covered by item 110 are incorporated into the OPFs, which are scheduled by items 040 and 041.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 2.3: Employee Relations Records

This schedule covers records documenting activities related to managing relationships between the agency, its employees, and its unions and bargaining units. The records are those maintained by agency offices that deal with employee relations functions, regardless of office placement in organizational structure. Copies held by supervisors/management in program offices are not covered by this schedule (as such copies may be part of supervisory files covered under GRS 2.2, Employee Management Records). Activities include: negotiating and administering labor contracts and collective bargaining agreements, managing grievances and other conflicts such as by providing alternative dispute resolution processes, Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) activities, managing programs promoting work-life balance such as telework, providing employee reasonable accommodations and providing displaced employee programs. The scope of this schedule does not extend to programs that are considered employee benefits such as providing health care and retirement pensions.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) about GRS 2.3, Employee Relations Records

July 2017

INTRODUCTION

1. What is the purpose of GRS 2.3?

The purpose of this schedule is to provide disposition authority for records that document managing relationships between the agency, its employees, and its unions and bargaining units. The records are those maintained by agency offices that deal with employee relations functions, regardless of office placement in organizational structure.

2. Whom do I contact for further information about this schedule?

You may contact NARA's General Records Schedules Team at GRS_Team@nara.gov with questions about this schedule.

CHANGES FROM THE OLD GRS

3. How does GRS 2.3 differ from the old General Records Schedules (GRS)?

GRS 2.3 consolidates into fewer items several series of human resource records located in the very granular old GRS 1. It also updates several of those items to reflect how Government human resource offices currently handle those processes. For example, both Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) and Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) records now contain items for the informal and formal aspects of those processes.

There are some new categories, and some refreshed categories. Anti-harassment records are new to the GRS. Some categories of records have a new "program records" item. These items are designed to capture the everyday administrative records of running, maintaining, and implementing these programs. The Displaced Employee Program records are not new but are now a distinct category.

Although they are related to GRS 2.3, this schedule does not cover Merit Systems Protection Board (MSPB) records. We are considering series related to that process for future updates to the GRS. Other records related to employee relations processes, such as written counseling documents, leave warnings/restrictions, and direct orders, are not covered by GRS 2.3. However, we are considering them for future updates to the GRS.

4. Why are some old GRS 1 items rescinded?

GRS 1, items 25b and 25e, have been rescinded. GRS 1, item 25b, Copies of Complaint Case Files, should be treated as non-record reference copies or, if applicable, as attorney or other working files. GRS 1, item 25e, Employee Housing Requests, does not fit with the revised EEO items and appears to no longer be in use.

QUESTIONS RELATED TO ITEMS 011 AND 012

5. Why do these items make a distinction between informal and formal Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) processes?

The ADR records were updated to separate formal and informal records to reflect current common ADR workflows.

6. Is ADR used in other employee relations actions?

Yes, ADR is often used in other actions, such as EEO complaints.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEMS 031 AND 032

7. Why do these items make a distinction between informal and formal EEO complaints?

The older GRS descriptions were created before the EEOC and Federal EEO offices developed informal and formal EEO discrimination complaint processes. These are now common, shared practices across the Federal Government and we revised the GRS to reflect that. Informal complaints are addressed first by counseling or ADR options. Informal complaints may be resolved and never reach the formal stage. If unresolved after counseling or ADR options, complaints may proceed into the formal process. Formal complaints can be decided within the Federal agency or by hearing at the EEOC, or can be appealed to the EEOC or to Federal courts.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEMS 040 AND 041

8. Why did you create a category for anti-harassment records?

Items 040 and 041, anti-harassment records, are a new series created in response to programs being rolled out across the Federal Government focusing on reducing or eliminating various types of harassment in the Federal workplace when they do not fall into the areas covered by the EEO process or when the employee does not file an EEO complaint. Similarly to ADR records, if these records flow into another process, such as a grievance or an EEO complaint, then they become part of that other case file and are covered by the relevant GRS (or agency-specific) records schedule.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEMS 050, 051, AND 052

9. Why are other types of labor relations records not included in this schedule?

This series does not include negotiated grievances, arbitration appeals, negotiability appeals, unfair labor practice filings, and impasse filings. We are still determining if these records are appropriate for future updates to the GRS.

QUESTIONS RELATED TO ITEMS 060, 061, AND 062

10. How should agencies interpret the disposition instruction found in items 060, 061, and 062: "Destroy no sooner than 4 years but no later than 7 years after case is closed"?

The Office of Personnel Management (OPM) designated in old GRS 1, items 30a and 30b, that agencies should select a period between 4 and 7 years as the disposition time frame for all instances of these records, and note it in agency manuals or other official records management documents. OPM decided to retain the 4-to-7-year disposition instructions in the new items. So, for example, Agency A's records officer, after consulting with agency stakeholders, determines that 5 years is appropriate for the agency's business needs. The records officer then applies that disposition to all of the agency's administrative grievance, adverse action, and performance-based action records, and updates the agency manual and any other relevant agency records management policies. Please note that these items do not allow for longer (or shorter) retention periods based on business need.

11. Why are other types of grievances not covered by this schedule?

Negotiated grievances are not included in this schedule. We are conducting more research on negotiated grievances and other categories of conduct and disciplinary files to determine if they are appropriate to be added to the GRS.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEMS 070 AND 071

12. Why do you exclude the Department of Defense (DoD) from using items 070 and 071?

DoD has established a DoD-specific Priority Placement Program for reassigning displaced career, career-conditional, and excepted service employees. DoD schedules those records on an agency-specific schedule.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEMS 080 AND 081

13. How are agencies to interpret the note in item 081, "Forms, requests, or applications to participate in telework/alternate worksite programs"?

OPM subject matter experts wanted the disposition instructions to be clearer about the definition of "end of employee participation in the program" as that directly impacts the timing of disposition. The note explains that the end of employee participation includes "if employee leaves telework entirely, is rejected, denied, or barred from telework, has significant changes in telework or agency position such that a new agreement is signed, or employee leaves Federal employment."

Agencies are free to select their cut-off point from within these options. For example, one agency decides that leaving Federal employment as the cut-off works best with their business needs and processes. Another agency may find that a reasonable cut-off point for their needs is when employees experience significant enough change to warrant signing a new telework agreement. Whatever the agency decides is appropriate, it needs to note that decision in records management directives, policies, and appropriate manuals.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 2.4: Employee Compensation and Benefits Records

This schedule covers records Federal agencies create while conducting agency payroll functions (items 010-061) and while managing specific programs that offer employees monetary or other tangible benefits (items 070 to 141). See GRS 2.3 (Employee Relations Records) and GRS 2.7 (Employee Health and Safety Records) for other programs that provide intangible benefits, protections, or assistance to employees.

Most payroll is processed electronically. Agencies create payroll system input records both electronically and on paper (brought into the system by scanning). This schedule covers only versions the agency determines to be official payroll system records. GRS 5.2, item 020 (Intermediary records) covers paper documents for which the agency designates their equivalent electronic versions to be the record copies.

This schedule does not cover Office of Personnel Management files that reflect its own or other agencies' personnel needs and problems. Agencies must offer records they created prior to January 1, 1921, to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) before applying disposition instructions in this schedule.

INTRODUCTION

1. What is the purpose of GRS 2.4?

This schedule provides disposition authority for records an agency creates and receives when processing payroll and administering employee benefit programs that involve transferring funds or other tangible benefits to individual employees.

2. Whom do I contact for further information about this schedule?

Please contact NARA's General Records Schedules Team at GRS_Team@nara.gov with questions about this schedule.

3. How does GRS 2.4 differ from the old GRS?

GRS 2.4 supersedes or rescinds nearly all of old GRS 2. It also supersedes items in old GRS 1 and 9. Recognizing that payroll processing is now an almost entirely electronic process, this schedule merges many old items to create new records management efficiencies. It rescinds items that refer to records agencies no longer create. It combines in a single schedule all records about transferring money to employees, whether in salary and wages, or benefits expressed in financial remuneration. (See also question 5.) This schedule also adds new items not previously covered by the GRS. New items include records of child care subsidy programs and Family Medical Leave Act programs.

4. Why did you rescind old GRS items?

We rescinded seven old GRS items for these reasons:

- GRS 1, item 35b1 (N1-GRS-88-2, item 1b1) is replaced by GRS 2.4, item 110. Because item 110 contains filing instructions rather than disposition instructions, it cannot become a schedule item in ERA. Since we cannot technically supersede the old item, we must therefore rescind it.
- GRS 2, item 1a (N1-GRS-92-4, item 1a) was an instruction to make sure an employee's pay record always remains current. Since it did not state whether the records are permanent or temporary—or even where to file them—it was inappropriate for inclusion in a records schedule, so has been removed.
- GRS 2, item 2 (N1-GRS-92-4, item 2) gave system administrators the right to periodically dispose of system data after long-term records were downloaded and safeguarded. However, GRS 5.1, item 020, allows agencies to dispose of anything left in an electronic system, as a non-recordkeeping copy, once long-term records are appropriately saved. Therefore, the old item is no longer necessary.
- GRS 2, items 14a, 14b, and 14c (N1-GRS-92-4, items 14a, 14b, and 14c) describe records no longer being created. Payroll deduction for purchasing paper savings bonds was discontinued in 2010. New GRS 2.4, item 010, instead covers records of payroll e-deductions to purchase Treasury bonds via the TreasuryDirect system.

- GRS 2, item 23b (N1-GRS-92-4, item 23b) describes records that agencies should no longer have or create. Now, the process of instituting a change in a previous payroll record is handled electronically. The electronic system retains the record of the change in an individual's profile. The old item covered extra paper copies in the payroll processing office. If such records are ever created now (and they should not be), they are disposable as input records under GRS 5.2, item 020, Intermediary records.

GENERAL QUESTION

5. How does this schedule relate to GRS 2.3 (Employee Relations Records) and GRS 2.7 (Employee Health and Safety Records)?

Some series of records in GRS 2.3 (for instance, those created in alternative dispute resolution) and the not-yet-issued GRS 2.7 (for example, those created under the Employee Assistance Program) bear similarity to records in GRS 2.4. Two distinctions separate the 2.4 benefits from those in 2.3 and 2.7. First, and most importantly, the programs covered in 2.4 were established primarily for the benefit of employees, and sometimes as incentives to make Federal employment more attractive to a larger recruitment base. Programs covered in 2.3 and 2.7 were designed primarily to save the Government money, ensure an anti-discriminatory culture, or make it possible for employees to be more productive. The very real employee benefits that derive from these programs are a side-effect of the programs' primary goals. A second distinction is whether the benefit is calculated in dollars or some other tangible distribution. Programs that provide cash payments or other cash-value benefit (such as a mass transit card) are covered in GRS 2.4. Programs that provide other kinds of benefits to the employee (such as dispute resolution and counseling) are covered in GRS 2.3 and 2.7.

QUESTION RELATED TO "PAYROLL" SECTION ITEMS 010 TO 050

6. Who holds the record copy of records described in items 010 through 050: the agency or the payroll service provider?

The GRS is agnostic on ownership of and responsibility for the record copy. Responsibility for retention of records for the length of time required for each of these five items should be negotiated and agreed upon between an agency and its payroll services provider.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 010

7. The records listed in this item look to me like system inputs. Why did you not cover them under GRS 5.2, item 020 (Intermediary records)?

GRS 2.4, item 010 only concerns record copies of documents listed in the series description. These record copies may be in electronic or paper form. If a payroll system receives paper, scans it, and enters it into the system, and the scanned electronic version is considered the record copy, then the paper is indeed system input covered by GRS 5.2, item 020.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 030

8. Who is responsible for retaining time and attendance records for 3 years? The agency, or the payroll provider (if different from the agency)?

Every office involved in documenting employees' time worked is responsible for retaining the records it receives and creates for 3 years. Timekeepers in individual offices need to be able to document that the time and attendance information they sent to the payroll system provider was accurate. Only total hours of time worked and leave taken is forwarded to the payroll system provider. Backup documentation justifying those totals is usually retained by the timekeeper.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 040

9. Old GRS 2, item 1b, "Individual Pay Record," has been recast as "Agency payroll for each pay period." Why does the item no longer refer to individuals?

GRS 2, item 1b, covered "Individual Pay Record, containing pay data on each employee within an agency." In the days that payroll was processed entirely on paper, an "individual earning and service card" (Optional Form 1127) did indeed track an individual's entire payroll history in a single spot. These very useful cards became a casualty of automation. They were largely gone by 1992 when GRS 2, item 1b, was last updated, yet the series description continued to imply that each Federal employee had an individual file associated with his or her name. The records produced by automation were instead pay-period batches of an agency's entire payroll for each of 26 pay periods per year, arranged within the batch by personal identifiers (generally Social Security numbers). But re-creation of a person's entire pay history has therefore been a laborious and time-intensive task necessitating access to potentially hundreds of record sets. In other words, while an "Individual Pay Record" attached to a single employee can be created from these records, no such standalone record exists without the research just described. New item 040 more correctly describes the content of each batch of records, linking them to records of all employees of an agency for a single pay period.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEMS 100 AND 101

10. Why are records created and maintained by the Department of Labor (DOL) Office of Workers' Compensation not covered by these items?

Items 100 and 101 cover records agencies create about employee personnel injury compensation. At these agencies, the records are administrative in nature. DOL's Office of Workers' Compensation maintains personnel injury compensation records for employees across the Federal Government. As such, these records document how DOL carries out that mission. Therefore, DOL schedules these records on an agency-specific records schedule.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 110

11. Why does this item have no disposition authority number?

Item 110 has no associated disposition authority number because it has no instruction either to destroy the records or to save them permanently. The instruction instead merely directs the user to place the records into the "appropriate retirement system." Their ultimate disposition is governed by a disposition authority connected to the retirement system records.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 111

12. Old GRS 1, items 35a (Health benefits denied, not appealed) and 35b2 (Appeal unsuccessful - benefits denied) were retained for 3 years. The new retention period is only 1 year. Why the decrease in retention period?

These two old GRS items relate to benefits requests on behalf of former spouses. The retention period in the new GRS item reflects the instruction in OPM's Federal Employees Health Benefits (FEHB) Handbook regarding former spouses (<http://www.opm.gov/healthcare-insurance/healthcare/reference-materials/reference/former-spouses/>), which states that agencies should retain these records for 1 year.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 4.3: Input Records, Output Records, and Electronic Copies

This schedule was entirely superseded by GRS 5.1, item 020, and GRS 5.2, item 020 in July 2017. See Disposition Authority column for details.

This schedule provides disposal authorization for the following records related to electronic systems or collections of electronic records: input or source records, system output records, and non-recordkeeping copies of electronic records. In other words it covers records that contain information duplicated in the recordkeeping copies of electronic records (also known as the master records or master files). This schedule does not cover the recordkeeping copies themselves, which must be scheduled based on their content. Electronic records not included in GRS 4.3 may not be destroyed unless authorized by a NARA approved schedule.

Also not covered by this schedule are original hardcopy still pictures, graphic materials/posters, aerial film, maps, plans, charts, sound recordings, motion picture film, or video recordings that are scheduled as permanent or unscheduled that have been converted to an electronic format. Electronic versions of special media records such as these often do not adequately replace the original and therefore the original records may not be destroyed as "input records."

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 5.1: Common Office Records

This schedule covers certain records common to most offices in Federal agencies, whether those offices are involved in administrative or mission-related activities. Most of these records are administrative housekeeping records. Agencies create and maintain administrative records when carrying out general, non-mission-related activities that keep an office operating. In contrast, agencies create mission records when carrying out the unique activities for which the agency was established. The only mission-related records this schedule covers are non-recordkeeping copies of electronic records (item 020) that are maintained for decision-making purposes or taking action. Copies maintained solely for convenience of reference are considered non-record materials. This schedule may be applied to records in offices that carry out mission-related activities, but only those records that are described here.

This schedule does not apply to transitory records, which are scheduled in GRS 5.2. The distinction between transitory and the records covered in this schedule is that the records here generally have a longer period of business use than transitory records. This schedule also does not cover materials an agency determines to be non-record or personal. Neither does this schedule cover common administrative records found in most offices that are scheduled elsewhere in the GRS, such as timekeeping and procurement records.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) about GRS 5.1, Common Office Records

July 2017

INTRODUCTION

1. What is the purpose of GRS 5.1?

This schedule provides disposition authority for common, routine records found in most offices, whether focused on administrative activities or mission-related activities. These records consist primarily of administrative housekeeping records, but also include non-recordkeeping copies of electronic records, whether in electronic form or printed out. It does not, however, cover non-recordkeeping copies of records that did not originate in an electronic format (see also Question 8 below). This schedule also does not cover common office administrative records scheduled elsewhere in the GRS, such as timekeeping and procurement records.

2. Whom do I contact for further information about this schedule?

Please contact NARA's General Records Schedules Team at GRS_Team@nara.gov with questions about this schedule.

CHANGES FROM THE OLD GRS

3. How does GRS 5.1 differ from the old General Records Schedules?

This GRS combines routine administrative records from GRS 23 and GRS 26 along with non-recordkeeping copies of electronic records (GRS 4.3) to provide coverage for routine records found in most agency offices.

A significant change in this schedule is that we have superseded GRS 4.3, item 040, with item 020 and, in doing so, made the item media-neutral. It can now be applied to non-recordkeeping hardcopy printouts of electronic records as well as to electronic copies.

4. Why did you rescind GRS 26, item 1b?

We rescinded GRS 26, item 6b, because it was not actually a disposition authority, but rather an instruction to submit a records schedule for the records. Agencies are still required to submit a records schedule for mission-related committee records (see Note to item 030 in GRS 5.1).

5. Why did you rescind GRS 27, item 6?

We rescinded GRS 27, item 6, because Chief Information Officers (CIOs) are now considered high-level officials under the Capstone email guidance. Therefore, we no longer think it appropriate to schedule their subject and office files as temporary, since there could be records of permanent value documenting high-level decisions.

QUESTIONS RELATED TO ITEM 020

6. What are “non-recordkeeping copies” as covered by item 020?

Non-recordkeeping copies are any copy other than the “official record” kept by the agency for formal recordkeeping purposes. Do not confuse the term with “non-record.” Non-recordkeeping copies may be records. They are records if they are used to make decisions or take actions or agencies create them in the course of conducting business. However, such records generally do not need to be kept for documentation purposes for as long a time as the official record copy. For example, email created and received within an individual’s email account in the course of agency business is a non-recordkeeping copy that is a record. Those emails may be copied into an official recordkeeping system, such as a case file or an email archiving system, for long-term preservation. The copy in the individual’s account is still a record used to conduct business, but it is not the recordkeeping copy; it is a non-recordkeeping copy.

7. Item 020 states that it includes “copies of the above electronic records maintained in websites or web servers, but EXCLUDING web pages themselves.” What is a “web page” in this context?

The term “web page” as it is used in this item refers to the electronic file(s) that make up the page as it renders on the web, such as an HTML or XML file, style sheets, and any other associated files that may make up the web page.

8. Why does item 020 not cover copies that originate in hardcopy or paper format?

The GRS doesn’t include copies that do not originate in an electronic format largely because almost all records now originate in some sort of electronic format. Additionally, it is less likely that a record originating in hardcopy (for example, handwritten notes) is copied in an electronic format elsewhere, so the original record may be the recordkeeping version because it is the only one that exists.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 5.2: Transitory and Intermediary Records

This schedule covers records of a transitory or intermediary nature. Transitory records are routine records of short term value (generally less than 180 days). Intermediary records are those involved in creating a subsequent record. These records do not document significant decisions or actions an agency takes.

Note that this schedule does not cover original hardcopy still pictures, graphic materials or posters, aerial film, maps, plans, charts, sound recordings, motion picture film, or video recordings that are scheduled as permanent or unscheduled and that have been converted to an electronic format. Electronic versions of special media records such as these often do not adequately replace the original and therefore the original records may not be destroyed as “input records.”

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) about GRS 5.2, Transitory and Intermediary Records

July 2017

INTRODUCTION

1. What is the purpose of GRS 5.2?

GRS 5.2 provides disposition authority for records required only for a short time (transitory records) and records created or used in the process of creating a subsequent record (intermediary records) that an agency does not also need to meet legal or fiscal obligations, or to initiate, sustain, evaluate, or provide evidence of decision-making.

2. Whom do I contact for further information about this schedule?

Please contact NARA's General Records Schedules Team at GRS_Team@nara.gov with questions about this schedule.

CHANGES FROM THE OLD GRS

3. How does GRS 5.2 differ from its superseded General Records Schedules?

The new item for Transitory Records (item 010) has not changed substantially from the items it supersedes (Suspense Files, GRS 23, items 6a and 6b, and Transitory Files, GRS 23, item 7). The main difference is in the list of examples, which has been updated to incorporate contemporary records.

Item 020, Intermediary Records, is a more substantial change. "Intermediary records" is a new concept to the GRS that covers various previously scheduled records, all with the same function of being a record used to create another record. The item incorporates a diverse range of records previously scheduled in the GRS, including merging the input and output records items from GRS 4.3 into a single item. We have also added coverage for unsubstantial working files.

QUESTION ABOUT ITEM 010 – TRANSITORY RECORDS

For more information on applying this item to electronic messages, see Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) about Transitory Records in Electronic Messages.

4. Why does this item include seemingly non-record materials such as "messages received from agency distribution lists or listservs" and "received copies of circulated internal information such as agency instructions, notifications, circulars, newsletters, and email blasts to employees"?

While the records in question may be deemed non-record material by some agencies, other agencies are not as comfortable making this non-record determination. Just because a record is a copy does not mean that it is non-record. If it is used for decision-making or taking action, it is a record. Only reference copies are non-record documents. To assist agencies that do not want to declare these materials non-record, we have included them in their own item within GRS 5.2 (item 010), to clearly distinguish and designate them as records of a transitory nature.

QUESTIONS ABOUT ITEM 020 – INTERMEDIARY RECORDS

5. What constitutes a meeting in the second bullet in item 020?

A meeting for the purposes of this schedule is the deliberations of a body such as a board, commission, advisory group, committee, task force, or other collection of employees such as a staff meeting, in which agency business is transacted or discussed. A meeting does not include activities such as interrogations, interviews, or other instances where individuals are subject to questioning.

6. What are input or source records in the fourth bullet in item 020?

Input records are the sources of information agencies enter into an electronic system. They support creating, updating, or modifying master files an agency keeps for recordkeeping purposes under a NARA-approved records schedule. Input records may be electronic files or hardcopy (non-electronic) documents. They may include records such as upload files staged for ingest into a system or hardcopy forms scanned or otherwise entered into the system.

Not all input processes create separate records. This GRS applies only when a separate record is created. Input processes that do not create a separate input record include:

- Structured data the user enters from online forms, and unstructured (textual) data that is born digital (i.e., not scanned from paper).
- Data moved automatically from another system with no associated data file. Thus, the data is copied from one system to the other without creating an intermediary data file. (For example, data are pulled from one system to populate another, and fields from System X are used to populate System Y.)

7. What does “verification of successful creation” mean in the disposition instruction for item 020?

“Verification of successful creation” means that the agency has taken steps to ensure that hardcopy or analog records have been converted to electronic format in their entirety, that no information or pages are missing, all information is readable, especially in cases where records are scanned, and that the electronic version of the record is accessible (it can be opened). It is up to Federal agencies to define their verification procedures. NARA does not have specific requirements for how agencies should verify that they have successfully converted records to an electronic format.

8. Why does this item’s fourth bullet include hardcopy input source documents only if all information on the document is incorporated into an electronic system?

This item covers input source records only if all information on the document is copied into the electronic version because if it does not include all such information, the subsequent record does not exactly duplicate the input record. The input record therefore contains unique information that may change its value. For example, if a hardcopy source record contains an annotation not clearly included in the scanned copy, the scan does not entirely duplicate the input record. Therefore, the input record may have unique value and the agency should retain it.

Another example is data entered from a form. If not all of the form’s data is entered into the system, then the source record has not been copied in its entirety. One exception may be a form used to check a record already in the system. If information on the form already matches what is in the system, there is no need to update the information in the system. In that case, the source record is still being copied in its entirety because the information on the input form and in the system is the same. As long as there is a one-to-one relationship between the source record and the electronic version and they match, the source record is being copied in its entirety.

9. What are “inaccessible permanent records” in Exclusion 2? Why does item 020 exclude summarized information derived from such records?

Electronic records may have been scheduled as permanent but the record may be lost, corrupted, or in some other way unable to be opened or read. In that case, a data file output containing summarized information may be the only accessible version of the record, and NARA might want to take this output record in place of the inaccessible/unavailable permanent master record. This exclusion should not be interpreted to mean that outputs must be kept just in case the permanent record becomes inaccessible; it only means that, if you have the output records and the master file is inaccessible, you should contact NARA to see if you should transfer the output records instead.

10. Under what conditions are input records covered or not covered by item 020?

The following two tables explain the conditions under which input records are covered or not covered by item 020. If the input records are in hardcopy format:

Input record description	Source already scheduled?	Limitations	Instruction
Hardcopy records entered or scanned into the system where the electronic version captures all information on the hardcopy, such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Data entered into system from a paper form • Scanned images/ PDFs of hardcopy records 	Yes; scheduled as permanent	Schedule states that records must be transferred in hardcopy.	These records are not covered by the GRS. Hardcopy records should be maintained and the existing disposition authority for the hardcopy records applied.
		Electronic version does not meet NARA transfer standards.	These records are not covered by the GRS. Hardcopy records should be maintained and the existing disposition authority for the hardcopy records applied.
		Schedule does not require hardcopy transfer or is silent on format of records to be transferred to NARA and electronic format meets transfer standards.	Use GRS 5.2, item 020. However, these records fall under Note 1 and may not be destroyed until 90 days after submission of a notification to NARA per 36 CFR 1225.24(a)(1) and verification of successful creation of the electronic version, but longer retention is authorized if required for business use.
	Yes; scheduled as temporary		Use GRS 5.2, item 020. Destroy immediately after verification of successful creation of the electronic version, but longer retention is authorized if required for business use.

	No		Use GRS 5.2, item 020. However, these records fall under Note 1 and the electronic records must be scheduled prior to destruction of any input or source records and after verification of successful conversion, but longer retention is authorized if required for business use.
Hardcopy records converted to electronic format but containing information not captured in electronic version, such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Records with handwritten annotations • Records with layered attached notes • Color-dependent documents captured electronically only in black-and-white 	Yes		These records are not covered by the GRS. Hardcopy records should be maintained and the existing disposition authority for the hardcopy records applied.
	No		These records are not covered by the GRS. Input record must be scheduled because it is unique.
Hardcopy records where the electronic version does not replace the source record, such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A case tracking system in which users input information from source documents, but the documents themselves remain a distinct entity outside the system 	Yes		These records are not covered by the GRS. Hardcopy records should be maintained and the existing disposition authority for the hardcopy records applied.
	No		These records are not covered by the GRS. Input record must be scheduled because it is unique.

If the input records are in electronic format:

	Required for legal or audit purposes.	These records are not covered by the GRS. The input records must be scheduled.

Description of input records	Limitations	Instruction
Electronic records entered into system during an update process, such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Copies of data files or records from another system maintained by the agency 	Not required for legal or audit purposes.	Use GRS 5.2, item 020. Destroy immediately after data has been entered or otherwise incorporated into the master file or database and verified, but longer retention is authorized if required for business use.
Electronic records received from another agency and used as input/source records, such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Copies of data files or records from a system in another agency 	Produced under an interagency agreement or created for specific information needs of receiving agency.	These records are not covered by the GRS. The input records must be scheduled.
	Neither produced under an interagency agreement nor created for specific information needs of receiving agency.	Use GRS 5.2, item 020. Destroy immediately after data has been entered or otherwise incorporated into the master file or database and verified, but longer retention is authorized if required for business use.
Uncalibrated and unvalidated data collected in observation or measurement activities or research and development programs, such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Scientific observational data from satellites • Research experimental test data 		Use GRS 5.2, item 020. Destroy immediately after data has been entered or otherwise incorporated into the master file or database and verified, but longer retention is authorized if required for business use.
Electronic source records scheduled elsewhere and the system does not replace the source record, such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A case tracking system in which users input information from electronic source records, but the records themselves remain a distinct entity outside the system 		These records are not scheduled in the GRS. Apply source system's existing authority or schedule source system if unscheduled.

Note: If the input records are in electronic format, any electronic files created specifically from one system as an input to another system must either be covered by GRS 5.2, item 020, or be separately scheduled, even if the originating system is scheduled.

11. When is it not appropriate to destroy input records according to item 020 once they are converted to an electronic format?

Agencies may find that in certain circumstances they have a business need for the source records even after they have converted the records to an electronic format. In such cases, agencies may determine that it is not appropriate to apply the GRS for converted input/source records. Agencies should assess their business need for the source records and may establish a longer retention in their agency-specific disposition manuals without additional NARA approval. In some cases, source records may be or become part of another records series scheduled on an agency-specific schedule. In these cases, the agency-specific schedule should be applied rather than item 020. For example, if the source record is part of another record, such as a case file, but the electronic version of the record is not a copy of the entire case file or has a separate purpose from the case file, then an agency-specific case file disposition authority, rather than item 020, may apply to the source record.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) about Transitory Records in Electronic Messages

July 2017

INTRODUCTION

1. What is the purpose of this FAQ?

This FAQ provides additional information about applying GRS 5.2, item 010, Transitory Records, to electronic messages. Electronic messages can fall into one of four categories: permanent, long-term temporary, short-term temporary, or transitory. This FAQ specifically addresses the transitory category.

2. Whom do I contact for further information about this schedule?

Please contact NARA's General Records Schedules Team at GRS_Team@nara.gov with questions about this schedule.

3. What is a transitory record?

The GRS provides two criteria for identifying a transitory record:

- the records are required for only a short time (generally less than 180 days), and
- the agency does not require the records to meet legal or fiscal obligations, or to initiate, sustain, evaluate, or provide evidence of decision-making.

Both criteria must be met for the record to be transitory. If they are not both met, the record may still be temporary, it is just not a transitory record. For examples of transitory records, see GRS 5.2, item 010.

4. What electronic messages are NOT transitory?

Electronic messages that are not transitory include those that:

- contain information that is necessary to adequately and properly document the activities and functions of the agency
- provide documentation of agency decisions and commitments reached orally (person-to-person, phone, video, or in conference)
- convey information of value on agency activities if the electronic mail message adds to a proper understanding of agency operations and responsibilities
- document the formulation and execution of policies and decisions
- denote actions or decisions taken by agency Capstone officials (Capstone officials are defined in GRS 6.1)
- provide evidence related to fiscal or legal rights and obligations

This list is not comprehensive. These messages may still be temporary (or even permanent), but not transitory.

5. Can records identified as transitory be culled from electronic mail?

Yes. NARA expects that agencies will cull non-record, spam, personal, and transitory records from email accounts, especially those appraised as permanent. This applies to email managed under an agency-specific schedule or GRS 6.1 (also known as the Capstone Approach). For more information about culling email see Frequently Asked Questions \(FAQs\) about GRS 6.1, Email Managed Under a Capstone Approach, questions 30-32. Agencies may also apply other disposition authorities to dispose of email. See Frequently Asked Questions \(FAQs\) about GRS 6.1, Email Managed Under a Capstone Approach, question 22, for further information on applying other disposition authorities, including GRS 5.2, item 010, to email.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 5.6: Security Records

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) about GRS 5.6, Security Records

July 2017

1. What is the purpose of GRS 5.6?

This schedule provides disposition authority for records about managing the protection of an organization's personnel, assets, and facilities.

2. Whom do I contact for further information about this schedule?

Please contact NARA's General Records Schedules Team at GRS_Team@nara.gov with questions about this schedule.

CHANGES FROM THE OLD GRS

3. How does GRS 5.6 differ from the old GRS?

GRS 5.6 adds 12 new items to the GRS and supersedes 46 items found throughout old GRS 10, 11, 12, 18, and 21. It aggregates a number of the law enforcement and other security functions in old GRS 18 into the items for routine security operations records (item 090) and accident and incident records (item 100).

Schedule items 210, 220, 230 and 240 are completely new to the GRS. These items cover records of executive branch agencies responsible for implementing insider threat protection programs under Executive Order 13587, Structural Reforms to Improve the Security of Classified Networks and the Responsible Sharing and Safeguarding of Classified Information.

TERMS USED IN THIS SCHEDULE

4. What are Facility Security Levels?

Facility Security Levels (FSLs) are assigned by agencies to facilities and any property assigned a security awareness status by Government agencies. The FSL determination is an estimation of the level of risk at a facility. See The Risk Management Process for Federal Facilities: An Interagency Security Committee Standard (August 2013, 1st Edition).

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEMS 060 and 061

5. What is the significance of the $500 over/under threshold amounts identified in the item titles?

Unclaimed personal property becomes the property of the Government 30 days after being found. Documentation of personal property valued over $500 must be kept for an additional 3 years from the date that title to the property vests in the Government to allow time for the former owner to file a claim. While agencies may choose to keep records of all unclaimed personally owned property for 3 years, lost-and-found documentation for property valued at less than $500 may be disposed of 30 days after the property is found.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 070

6. Why are the Interagency Security Committee member records retained for 10 years?

The Department of Homeland Security's Interagency Security Committee recommends a minimum retention period of 10 years for these records, as stated in Facility Security Committees: An Interagency Security Committee Standard (January 1, 2012, 2nd Edition), page 22.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 090

7. Why has the retention period for surveillance records been reduced from 6 months to 30 days?

Many agencies told us the 6-month minimum retention requirement expressed by old GRS 21, item 11 (Routine Surveillance Footage, N1-GRS-98-2, item 37) posed storage challenges because of the file size and attendant storage requirements of such recordings. Agencies felt that a 30-day requirement met both their business needs and storage capabilities. Since this item has the flexibility statement added to the instruction, agencies wanting to continue with the 6-month retention may continue to do so.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 140

8. What is a "TEMPEST Checklist"?

A TEMPEST Checklist is a form used to meet certain security requirements. TEMPEST refers to the investigation, study and control of compromising emanations from telecommunications and automated information system equipment.¹

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEMS 170 and 171

9. What is the difference between items 170 and 171? How do I know if my agency has "delegated investigative authority"?

The difference is whether an agency relies on another agency to conduct investigations (item 170) or conducts its own investigations under authority delegated from the Office of Personnel Management (OPM) or similar organization (item 171). Your agency's personnel security office can tell you your agency's delegated authority status and the agreed-upon retention period for the investigation reports. Item 171 provides disposition authority for records created by those agencies holding delegated authority. Item 170 should be used by all other agencies.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEMS 210 THROUGH 240

10. What is an insider threat?

An insider threat is the potential that an employee, contractor, or other person with authorized access to a Federal agency "will use his/her authorized access, wittingly or unwittingly, to do harm to the security of the United States. This threat can include damage to the United States through violent acts, espionage, terrorism, unauthorized disclosure of national security information, or through the loss, denial or degradation of departmental resources or capabilities” (Defense Security Service Regulation, Number 05-06, January 30, 2014, page 14).

QUESTIONS RELATED TO ITEM 230

11. My agency already follows the GRS for its personnel records and some of the documents included under this item are personnel records but have shorter retention periods. Which takes precedence: other GRS items with shorter retention periods or the GRS 5.6, 25-year retention period required in item 230? Wouldn't it be easier to keep all these records for a flat 25 years to meet the future needs of the insider threat program in my agency?

Item 230 covers copies of certain Human Resources (HR) records collected by an insider threat program for a unique business purpose. The original records held by the HR office remain scheduled under HR schedules. Copies of the same record may be retained by different offices for different time periods. Each copy documents a separate business function.

12. Twenty-five years is too long for my agency to keep insider threat information. How do we request a shorter retention period?

Your agency is welcome to submit an agency-specific records schedule following its normal procedure. The schedule should include a justification for deviating from the GRS. The GRS Team reviews all proposed agency schedule items covered by the GRS and determines if the agency can properly use its own authority as a GRS deviation. NARA may deny requests if the proposed agency retention period differs from the GRS and the agency retention period will put the records or the agency at risk.

Since the GRS establishes a legal minimum retention period for similar records across the Government, we request your agency's general counsel sign off on any agency-specific schedule requesting to keep records beneath the 25-year threshold. If we receive numerous requests to keep records shorter, we may reduce the GRS retention period for records held under this item. Thus, it is important for your agency to contact us at GRS_Team@nara.gov regarding any GRS items that do not meet business needs.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 5.8: Administrative Help Desk Records

Help desk services are provided by service centers to respond to Government and contract employees' technical and administrative questions. This schedule covers records on managing administrative, technical, and information technology (IT) help desks. It includes records on assistance provided both within the agency and through inter-agency service agreements on functions such as IT help, security, parking, payroll, timekeeping, human resources, etc.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) About GRS 5.8, Administrative Help Desk Records

July 2017

INTRODUCTION

1. What is the purpose of GRS 5.8?

This schedule provides disposition authority for administrative, technical, and information technology (IT) help desk records.

2. Whom do I contact for further information about this schedule?

You may contact NARA's General Records Schedules Team at GRS_Team@nara.gov with questions about this schedule.

CHANGES FROM THE OLD GRS

3. How does GRS 5.8 differ from the old General Records Schedule?

The old GRS 24, items 10a and 10b, covered information technology help desk records and did not specify whether they covered records of internal or agency-to-agency help desk records, or both. GRS 5.8 combines these two old items into one new item. The new item removes the information technology focus in the old GRS, in recognition that many agencies use help desk services to assist staff with a variety of administrative functions. Moreover, the new item covers both internal (intra-agency) and agency-to-agency (interagency) help desk records.

GENERAL

4. Why are GRS 5.8 Administrative Help Desk Records and GRS 6.5 Public Customer Service Records two separate schedules?

The two schedules reflect different functions. The GRS has separate schedules for administrative support functions (the 5.0 series) and mission support functions (the 6.0 series). Administrative help desk records document administrative support. Public customer service records document mission support. That is why these schedules appear separately.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) about GRS 6.1, Email Managed under a Capstone Approach

Updated May 2017

These FAQs provide additional information for agencies implementing GRS 6.1 (Capstone GRS). Agencies adopting a Capstone approach should also consult other resources available from NARA related to email management, and specifically the Capstone approach. These resources are available on NARA's Email Management page, and include:

- Links to related, over-arching email and transfer related guidance;
- Recorded training sessions related to Capstone implementation best practices, determining Capstone officials, and incorporating a Capstone approach within agency policies and training programs;
- Recorded briefings on the basics of Capstone, geared towards specific audiences (managers, General Counsel, etc.);
- Checklists and recorded training sessions on the basics of Capstone; and
- Information on NARA's own implementation of a Capstone approach.

Agencies should not implement GRS 6.1 of the Capstone approach in isolation. Agencies should also supplement with agency-wide policies and training, and incorporate the schedule and its requirements into agency records management implementation tools (such as manuals and file plans (see FAQ 29).

GENERAL

1. What is the purpose of GRS 6.1?

This schedule:

- Provides disposition authority for agencies who implement a Capstone approach as outlined in NARA Bulletin 2013-02: Guidance on a New Approach to Managing Email Records [Capstone]; and
- Assists agencies to meet Goal 1.2 of the Managing Government Records Directive \(M-12-18\), which requires agencies to manage both permanent and temporary email records in an accessible electronic format by December 31, 2016.

2. From whom may I request more information about this schedule?

You may contact NARA's General Records Schedules Team at GRS_Team@nara.gov with questions about this schedule.

3. How does an agency document that it is using the Capstone GRS?

To ensure proper oversight and accountability, no agency may implement this GRS until the agency submits a list of Capstone officials to NARA and we approve that list. This restriction applies when using item 010, and acts as an exception list when using only items 011 and 012. To submit your agency's list of Capstone officials, fill out NARA form 1005 (NA-1005), Verification for Implementing GRS 6.1, and email it to GRS_Team@nara.gov. The form includes detailed instructions.

4. Do all agencies have to follow this GRS?

If an agency chooses to use one or more items in this GRS, it may not deviate from this schedule's parameters and must submit form NA-1005 as described in Question 3. But an agency may request authority to implement a Capstone approach that differs from this GRS by submitting an agency-specific records schedule to NARA. Reasons agencies may wish to submit an agency-specific schedule can include, but are not limited to:

- The agency believes, and can justify, that it is appropriate to exclude one or more of the officials required for inclusion in item 010, Email of Capstone Officials;
- The agency needs, and can justify, a transfer date longer than the maximum in item 010; or
- The agency wants the authority to dispose of temporary email earlier than permitted by the retention periods in items 011 and 012, and can justify the shorter retention.

We encourage agencies to discuss scheduling options with their NARA Appraisal Archivist.

5. What does this GRS mean when using the term "official"?

In context of this GRS, an official includes all Federal agency employees, regardless of their appointment type (i.e., part-time employees, student employees, term employees, temporary employees, volunteers, interns, and members of the military), who create Federal records.

Officials under this GRS also include contractors that create Federal records in the course of performing their contract. Agencies determine whether contractor-created and -received records meet the definition of a Federal record defined in the Federal Records Act. Agencies must capture and manage contractor-created or -received Federal records appropriately, as with other Federal records. In situations where contractor employees are embedded in the agency and assigned agency email accounts (in contrast to situations where contractors fulfill the terms of a contract by providing a service from outside of the agency), the agency should manage those accounts in accordance with the GRS. Agencies should include records management requirements and provisions on retaining Federal records in contract agreements (36 CFR 1222.32).

6. Who are the Capstone officials this GRS covers?

Your agency must document its Capstone officials and submit that information to NARA on form NA-1005. This form includes detailed instructions to help you identify your agency's officials.

Capstone (permanent) officials are senior officials (e.g., those high on the organization chart) generally responsible for agency and program policy- and mission-related actions. Capstone officials vary agency by agency depending on an agency's organization and how it carries out agency roles. Some agencies will have more Capstone officials than others.

Federal agencies utilize a variety of titles for senior officials. Agencies using item 010 of this schedule must identify their equivalents for those positions described within each category provided in the item's description (when applicable).

Cabinet-level agencies implementing a Capstone approach that includes their components or operatives must apply the definition of official to each component separately. For this purpose, the agency should treat each component or operative as though it were a separate agency.

A general rule of thumb for identifying officials is that every record group (RG) the agency includes in the Capstone implementation should have its own group of Capstone officials.

If you need additional help to identify your agency's Capstone officials, please contact your NARA Appraisal Archivist.

QUESTIONS RELATED TO PERMANENT EMAIL RECORDS

7. What is meant by "Cut off in accordance with agency's business needs" within the disposition instructions for item 010?

Agencies have varying business needs and Capstone implementation plans (including system considerations) that affect when they cutoff email (consider it inactive). The 'business needs' language allows agencies flexibility to develop their own cutoff instructions based on those needs. Agencies must include their cutoff instructions in the "scope" section of form NA-1005, so NARA can document agency plans and anticipate future email transfers.

This flexibility also allows agencies to block (or batch) email to reduce the number of transfers to NARA. Agencies that do not wish to transfer annually may find blocking beneficial. For example, they could transfer email in five-year blocks instead. If the first five-year block spans from 2015 through 2020, the agency would transfer the email in 2035 (15 years after the cutoff date of the most recent records). They would next transfer email in 2040, which would cover email from 2021 through 2025. And so on.

Acceptable cutoff instructions for an agency include, but are not limited to:

- 1) Cut off at the end of the calendar year;
- 2) Cut off at the end of tenure;
- 3) Cut off at the end of each presidential administration; or
- 4) Cut off in five-year blocks at the end of the calendar year of the most recent email (for example, email from 2015 through 2020 would be cutoff in 2020 and transferred in 2035; email from 2021 through 2025 would be cutoff in 2025 and transferred in 2040).

As a reminder, all Federal agencies must manage permanent and temporary email records in an electronic format with the capability to identify, retrieve, and use the records for as long as their disposition requires.

8. What is meant by "Transfer to NARA 15-25 years after cutoff, or after declassification review (when applicable), whichever is later" within the disposition instructions for item 010?

Agencies have varying business needs and missions that affect when they should transfer permanent email to the legal custody of NARA. This language allows agencies flexibility to determine the appropriate transfer time, within the range of 15 to 25 years, after cutoff or after declassification review (if applicable). As with the cutoff instructions (see FAQ 7), agencies must include their transfer time in the "scope" section of form NA-1005, so NARA can document agency plans and anticipate future email transfers.

Agencies should carefully consider their transfer date. Agencies with a high level of deliberative or sensitive email may consider a later transfer date (for example, 25 years), while others without these concerns should consider an earlier transfer date (for example, 15 years). As a reminder, all Federal agencies must manage permanent and temporary email records in an electronic format with the capability to identify, retrieve, and use the records for as long as their disposition requires. The later the transfer date, the longer the agency maintains this responsibility.

The transfer date should be determined in conjunction with the cutoff instructions (see FAQ 7), as the two complete the full transfer instructions. Examples of full instructions include, but are not limited to:

Cut off...	Transfer...	In this example...
At the end of the calendar year	To NARA 15 years after cutoff	Email from calendar year 2015 would be transferred in 2030
At the end of tenure	To NARA 25 years after cutoff	Email from individuals whose tenure ended in 2015 would be transferred in 2040
At the end of each Presidential administration	To NARA 20 years after cutoff	Email from the 2017 to 2020 administration would be transferred in 2040
At the end of calendar year	To NARA in 15 years in 5 year blocks	Email from 2015 through 2020 would be transferred in 2035; email from 2021 through 2025 would be transferred in 2040
At end of tenure	To NARA in 5 year blocks 15 years after cutoff	Email from individuals whose tenure ended in 2015 through 2020 would be transferred in 2035; email from individuals whose tenure ended in 2021 through 2025 would be transferred in 2040

Agencies with classified email have less flexibility with transfer time frames. As with any classified permanent records, email must be reviewed prior to transfer to NARA. Classified email is typically reviewed at 25 years based on standing Executive Orders.

9. What specific positions are included in category 7, Principal Regional Officials, under item 010?

This category may not apply to all agencies, even if they have offices outside of their headquarters. This category is reserved for those positions that have complete oversight and responsibility spanning a larger region (e.g., multiple states or specific geographic area) in carrying out mission-critical activities. For example, an agency may have 10 regions, each with a Regional Administrator that is responsible for mission-critical activities within that region’s jurisdictions; these 10 Regional Administrators would fall into this category. Heads (regardless of title) of offices outside of headquarters, but not under a regionalized structure, are not included in this category. For example, it does not pertain to the heads of individual offices in the field, such as, but not limited to, customer service centers, processing centers, or administrative offices that conduct routine activities (e.g., passport offices, or Social Security claims processing offices, IRS service centers, commissaries).

Agencies may discuss the scope of this category with their NARA Appraisal Archivist during review of their form NA-1005.

10. Under category ten of item 010, how do agencies determine what additional roles and positions they should include as Capstone officials?

Category ten, “Additional roles and positions that predominately create permanent records related to mission-critical functions or policy decisions and/or are of historical significance,” is a catch-all category for those roles and positions whose email is appropriate for permanent retention, but not represented in the other nine categories. This could include email of staff in lower level (non-senior) positions, email related to functions in lower-level offices, or email in “service” accounts that agencies use to disseminate policy. For example, an agency with mission-centric task forces should include the head of each task force within this category if not captured in other categories. As with the other categories, the agency must include these roles and positions on its form NA-1005 if it has them. It is possible that an agency will have no roles and positions for this category.

11. Does the GRS apply if Capstone officials have more than one email account or if their email is managed by other staff (such as special assistants, confidential assistants, military assistants, or administrative assistants)?

Yes. Senior officials often have multiple email accounts, either based on their titles (e.g., ArchivistOfTheUnitedStates@nara.gov), or managed by other staff members on their behalf. Agencies must designate all accounts affiliated with a Capstone official role or position as permanent. See category four within item 010.

You can find additional information on designating Capstone officials and email accounts in NARA Bulletin 2013-03, Guidance for agency employees on the management of Federal records, including email accounts, and the protection of Federal records from unauthorized removal.

12. Must agencies maintain a list of Capstone officials and their associated email addresses?

Yes. Agencies should maintain an extended version of form NA-1005 that includes this additional information. Doing so will support the requirements in 36 CFR 1235.48, which requires agencies to include proper documentation when transferring permanent electronic records to NARA. The NA-1005 list will help agencies implement Capstone and export and transfer permanent email. Agencies should consider managing and keeping up-to-date a list of Capstone officials and their associated email addresses as part of agency policy (one of NARA’s recommended best practices). See also FAQ 36.

QUESTIONS RELATED TO TEMPORARY EMAIL RECORDS

13. What is the difference between items 011 and 012?

Item 011 covers all roles that do not fit into the descriptions of either 010 or 012. This item is therefore appropriate for non-senior officials who have roles such as: overseeing and instructing workers on the job; reviewing work in progress; observing and securing worker compliance with procedures and methods; planning, revising, and coordinating programs; planning general work flow and methods; budgeting and financial oversight; and completing other mission-related tasks. See also FAQs 14 and 15. The majority of temporary email accounts should fall into this item.

Item 012 covers routine and/or administrative roles within an agency. Depending on an agency’s unique organization, functions, and/or business needs, this item may be appropriate for only a limited number of roles. Agencies having difficulty determining whether item 012 is appropriate should use item 011.

Your agency should conduct a risk analysis to determine which roles and positions, if any, it should include in item 012, and should be able to produce this analysis if needed.

14. Why are supervisory positions excluded from item 012?

Supervisory positions are those that plan, assign, and review work, and evaluate performance. Because these positions tend to be involved in business and personnel decisions, we include them in item 011, which specifies a minimum retention period of seven years. See also FAQs 13 and 15.

15. How does an agency determine if it should keep temporary email covered by items 011 and 012 longer than the prescribed minimum retention period?

An agency should involve multiple stakeholders, such as its senior agency official for records management, general counsel, chief information officer, records officer, inspector general, etc., to determine the appropriate retention period for the agency's email. This should include determining if the agency is subject to inspection, audit, legal, and other regulatory requirements that require a longer agency email retention period to meet certain obligations. Ultimately, the agency will document and disseminate the retention period via agency policy and implementation tools. See FAQ 29.

Items 011 and 012 each prescribe a minimum retention period, and both authorize agencies to dispose of covered records any time after the minimum retention period has ended. This allows an agency to make internal decisions on whether or not it should keep temporary accounts contents longer based on business and legal needs.

Agencies may determine that using only item 011 as one agency-wide retention period for all temporary email may better meet its business and legal needs and may be easier to implement. For example, an agency may decide that it should maintain all temporary accounts for seven years, regardless of the role or position of the person whose account they're in. Agencies choosing to use only item 011 for all temporary email may also maintain accounts longer for business needs (e.g., 15 years) without requesting additional authority from NARA. See also FAQs 11, 14, and 29.

16. Why is the minimum retention period for item 011 seven years?

NARA believes that seven years is a reasonable and appropriate baseline retention period for temporary email records, not only to meet agency business needs, but also to ensure we adequately and properly document the policies and transactions of the Federal Government. Preserving these records for this period should also generally allow the Government to adequately defend itself in litigation or vindicate a plaintiff's rights in the event the Government has infringed on them. This retention period is also consistent with most statutes of limitations on pursuing matters against the United States (usually six years or less), with recordkeeping requirements set by Congress (such as the seven-year retention period for audit-related records established in the financial reforms of Sarbanes-Oxley), and with the IRS's seven-year retention period for personal tax records (tied to the six-year statute of limitations for criminal violations of the tax code). These, and similar examples, led NARA to conclude that seven years is an appropriate baseline retention period for temporary email records. See FAQ 15 on when a longer-than-seven-year retention period might be appropriate for certain agencies. Agencies that wish to seek a shorter retention period must submit an agency-specific schedule.

This Capstone GRS allows agencies to elect a shorter retention period using item 012 (three years) for a limited group of specific roles and positions. Please refer to FAQ 13 for additional information.

QUESTIONS ABOUT IMPLEMENTATION

17. May an agency implement portions of this GRS?

Yes, an agency may use any or all of the items on this GRS. If applying this GRS in part (for example, only using item 011), agencies must ensure that all other email records are covered by another NARA-approved disposition authority. Agencies that are using only item 011 or 012 may not dispose of the email of any official listed in item 010, Email of Capstone Officials, without authority from NARA in the form of another GRS or an agency-specific schedule. An agency must still submit form NA-1005 for approval in order to use either only the permanent item or only the temporary items of this GRS.

This flexibility supports those agencies that may want to implement Capstone in phases. Some agencies may find it practical to initially limit their overall Capstone approach to permanent email (item 010) and add management of temporary email within their overall Capstone approach later.

As indicated in the “GRS Scope” section of the Capstone GRS introduction, an agency may choose to exclude several categories of email from its Capstone program. The agency must ensure that it covers any email it excludes from the Capstone program under another NARA-approved schedule or authority before it may dispose of the email. See also FAQ 29.

18. Does this GRS apply to classified email accounts?

Yes. This GRS applies to all email, regardless of classification level. Agencies must include accounts on classified networks or systems within the relevant item on the GRS. For example, a Capstone official (permanent) with both classified and unclassified accounts would have both included under item 010 of this GRS.

The transfer instructions within item 010 allow agencies to transfer permanent classified email in alignment with declassification review. Agencies often don't review classified records until just prior to the automatic declassification date, which occurs when they are 25 years old. If an agency completes its review earlier than 25 years, but after 15 years, the agency should consult with NARA about when to transfer the records.

19. How is legacy email defined for GRS 6.1?

Legacy email is email that still exists in an electronic format, whether part of a temporary or a permanent account, at the time of Capstone implementation. It may be stored in an email archiving application, a document management system, in individual files (such as *.PST files) on local computers or drives, within current live email applications/systems, and/or stored in other ways.

20. Does the Capstone GRS apply to both retroactive (legacy/existing) and day-forward email?

We expect an agency using this GRS to apply the items the agency uses to all legacy (existing) email. Agencies should summarize the extent of their legacy email on form NA-1005. For example, an agency might state that no legacy email exists for the agency, as the agency used traditional records management with a print-and-file policy prior to adopting Capstone, or that the agency has legacy email back to a certain date. NARA acknowledges that legacy email may be incomplete, or that position titles may have changed over time. In cases of title changes, the agency may apply GRS items to equivalent positions.

21. Does legacy email include backup or recovery tapes with email stored on them?

No. These tapes were not created for records management purposes, and are outside the scope of GRS 6.1. Backup/recovery tapes are covered under GRS 3.2, item 050, "Backup files identical to permanent records scheduled for transfer to the National Archives," or GRS 3.2, item 051, "Backup files identical to temporary records authorized for destruction by a NARA-approved records schedule."

22. Can other disposition authorities be used to dispose of email prior to using the authorities within GRS 6.1?

Yes, with exceptions depending on the status of the email as described below, and for readable email only (see FAQ 23). Generally speaking, for legacy email most agencies will find applying items from GRS 6.1 to entire bodies of email as less burdensome than applying other valid authorities on an email-by-email basis. Agencies should address this in agency records management policy. See FAQs 3 and 29.

A. For all items on GRS 6.1, day-forward (start of Capstone implementation):

Yes. Agencies may apply other approved disposition authorities to temporary and permanent email prior to applying the disposition authorities within GRS 6.1 for day-forward email (start of Capstone implementation, generally the date approved on the agency's first form NA-1005). This could either be part of culling strategies used within an agency, and/or implementation of a Capstone approach that still utilizes some level of traditional records management. For example, an agency may apply:

- GRS 5.1, item 020, which authorizes deletion of electronic records once filed in an official recordkeeping system (such as with a related case file, or within another records management application) prior to use of the appropriate item from GRS 6.1;
- GRS 5.2, item 010, which authorizes the deletion of transitory records; and/or
- Other NARA approved, media neutral, agency specific disposition authorities. See other FAQ questions under 'Culling' section.

B. For temporary legacy email, items 011 and 012:

Yes. Agencies may apply other approved disposition authorities to legacy email (similar to section A above) prior to applying the disposition authorities within GRS 6.1.

Agencies not able to do this, or unable to ascertain if other approved disposition authorities were adequately applied to legacy email, must apply the authority from the appropriate item on GRS 6.1 at the account level for the minimum retention defined by either item 011 or item 012.

C. For permanent legacy email, item 010:

Yes, with limitations. Agencies may cull personal email (email not affiliated with official government business), clearly transitory email records (GRS 5.2, item 010), and nonrecord material. Agencies may also cull temporary records using any NARA approved media neutral disposition authority, excluding GRS 5.1, item 020. GRS 5.1, item 020 authorizes deletion of electronic records once filed in an official recordkeeping system (such as with a related case file, or within another records management application). However, if culling records using an agency specific authority, the records must be kept according to the retention of that authority. NARA acknowledges that this may result in duplicate permanent records being transferred. Since print-and-file and cross-filing policies were not consistently followed, or compliance with these policies is often difficult to validate, this ensures that permanently valuable emails are transferred to the National Archives.

23. What do we mean by ‘readable email’?

Readable email is email that is retrievable and usable for as long as needed to conduct agency business and to transfer permanent email records into the National Archives (i.e., for their NARA-approved retention period). This aligns with the requirements of 36 CFR 1236.12(b), related to records management and preservation considerations that must be incorporated into the design, development, and implementation of electronic information systems, as well as the Criteria for Managing Email Records in Compliance with the Managing Government Records Directive (M-12-18). Email that is not retrievable and usable is, therefore, not readable.

24. What do I do if I have legacy email that is not readable?

Currently NARA is requiring agencies to submit a schedule for legacy email that is not readable. Please contact the GRS Team at GRS_Team@nara.gov to discuss your situation further.

25. What if the status of legacy email is unknown?

Agencies may still submit, and receive approval of, the form NA-1005. NARA understands that agencies may not be able to fully articulate their legacy email scope, and how legacy email will be addressed, at the time of form submission. This may be due to the complex nature of older technology, access issues, or an agency needing time to inventory legacy email.

In these cases, agencies should notate as much information as possible on the form NA-1005. Examples of responses may be “Agency is still determining the full scope of our legacy email. We believe it dates back to approximately 2003. We will report our full finding to NARA within 6 months.” or “We have determined the scope of our email, which extends back to 2000, but we are still determining our access issues and will report our full findings to NARA in 6 months”.

26. Does use of Capstone and this GRS negate DOD 5015.2?

If your agency is part of the Department of Defense, and thus governed by DOD Directive 5015.2 and the accompanying DOD 5015.2 Standard for Records Management Applications, you should work within DOD to determine how Capstone may be implemented. Non DOD agencies are not governed by the 5015.2 directive or standard, and NARA does not require any agency to have 5015.2 compliant applications.

27. Does this GRS include calendars, appointments, tasks, chat transcripts, and other communications?

Although we designed the Capstone approach for managing email records, some agencies may not be able to separate email records from other affiliated records, such as calendars, appointments, tasks, and chats. In these cases, the agency can include the other records under the Capstone GRS. Inclusion of these records with email accounts should be noted on the NA-1005 in the scope field. However, when the agency manages these other records separately from email, the agency must have a NARA-approved disposition authority for Capstone officials (those whose email is permanent). GRS 5.1, item 010, covers calendars of non-Capstone officials. Chats, however, must be scheduled for both Capstone and non-Capstone officials.

28. How does this GRS affect NARA or agency requirements to file email records with other related Federal records?

Capstone can reduce the burden on individual end-users by encouraging greater use of automated methods for managing email accounts. Agencies must manage their records in accordance with NARA regulations and fulfill the requirements of the Managing Government Records Directive. When using the Capstone approach for capturing and managing email, agencies must:

Consider whether email records and attachments can or should be associated with related records under agency guidance. As a supplement to the Capstone approach, an agency may want or need to associate certain email records that relate to other records, such as case files or project files, with the related records. This consideration depends on an agency's needs and how it chooses to implement its Capstone approach. This may be accomplished by (1) using electronic pointers (such as metadata tags) to establish linkages, or (2) in select cases, filing with associated paper or electronic case or project files. (NARA Bulletin 2013-02, Guidance on a New Approach to Managing Email Records, item 5d.)

29. How can an agency incorporate this GRS into its implementation tools and policies?

Best practices include the use of internal implementation tools, such as manuals, handbooks, and/or file plans, for records management execution. As with any GRS, the items should be incorporated into these tools and expanded to include agency-specific information and policies. Agencies should also implement policy around their Capstone approach, to incorporate additional agency specific email guidance that does not require NARA approval. For example, this could include:

- Clearly defining the retention period for temporary email in policy and agency manuals, since the GRS authorizes banding;
- Developing and implementing policy related to cross-filing requirements; for example, a policy that may require that certain email be cross-filed within permanent case files;
- Developing and implementing policy related to instances where temporary email may need to be retained for a longer period than prescribed by the GRS and supporting agency policy;
- Developing and Implementing policy on the use of Government accounts for personal purposes;
- Defining the Capstone (permanent) accounts/addresses for the agency with more specificity than included in item 010, Email of Capstone Officials, (for example, those positions and officials specific to your agency). NA-1005 is a tool for this;
- Providing additional policy on how to handle email of officials in an acting position;
- Providing policy on managing nonrecord email;
- Developing policy on when other disposition authorities related to email are appropriate for use, such as the GRS item for transitory records;
- Developing policy related to culling and other opportunities to apply records management to email (See section 861.5 of NARA's sample Directive posted on our Email Management webpage);
- Implementing procedures for initiating record freezes and litigation holds; and

- Implementing procedures for conducting document searches for purposes of FOIA, Congressional, and other access requests.

QUESTIONS ABOUT CULLING

30. What is culling?

Culling, in the context of Capstone implementation, is the act of removing or deleting material prior to disposition. This may include deleting non-record email (e.g., email blasts (such as agency-wide communications), spam, and personal email (records belonging to an individual and not related to agency business)), and transitory email records (records of short-term interest or that have minimal documentary or evidentiary value). Please refer to GRS 5.2, item 010, and FAQs about Transitory Records in Electronic Messages for additional information on what constitutes a transitory record.

31. Do you expect agencies and users to cull Capstone email accounts?

Yes, especially for permanent accounts, in order to minimize the amount of non-record and personal emails agencies transfer to the National Archives. Since agencies are most familiar with the content of their email records, we expect agencies to cull permanent accounts to the greatest extent possible. Culling may be manual, automated, or a hybrid of both. We do not expect agencies to cull temporary accounts, but you may do so in accordance with your agency's policy as appropriate. For temporary email, agencies may choose the amount of culling it will allow, based on agency business needs and concerns (such as size of the email repository, cost of maintenance, and risk associated with the possible destruction of records that may be needed for agency business, including litigation).

32. What if an agency can't cull email?

An agency should review its policies and technology to determine and verify its culling capabilities. Some technologies may not allow culling as described above. Agencies may still implement Capstone for permanent accounts without culling, but this will result in the agency transferring to NARA emails that do not meet the definition of a Federal record, which NARA might then permanently preserve. NARA screens and, when warranted, withholds access to accessioned records in accordance with the general restrictions set out in 36 CFR 1256.40-1256.62. NARA decides on the access permitted to accessioned records containing personal privacy information as outlined in 36 CFR 1256.56 without consulting the originating agency. As part of our mission to provide public access to Federal Government records, we disclose records whenever legally permissible. As a result, we could release personal information in non-records that an agency or user did not cull prior to transfer.

33. Will NARA cull Capstone email after it's legally transferred?

Since agencies are most familiar with the content of their email records, we expect them to cull non-record material to the extent possible before transferring. In accordance with 44 U.S.C. § 2108, the Archivist of the United States assumes custody of these records when they are transferred. NARA administers accessioned records in accordance with 44 U.S.C. Chapter 21, 36 CFR Part 1256, and other rules we promulgate to dispose of non-record materials we find in any transfer. However, we cannot guarantee that we will find or cull non-records.

QUESTIONS ABOUT TRANSFER

34. How should agencies transfer email to NARA?

You should transfer email, like any other electronic records, in accordance with current NARA transfer guidelines. You can find up-to-date guidelines on NARA's accessioning website at <http://www.archives.gov/records-mgmt/accessioning/electronic.html>.

35. Will NARA accept encrypted email?

No. As outlined in NARA Bulletin 2014-04, Revised Format Guidance for the Transfer of Permanent Electronic Records, an agency must not transfer to NARA any encrypted permanent electronic records. The Bulletin requires the transferring agency to "[d]eactivate passwords or other forms of file level encryption including digital rights management (DRM) technologies commonly used with audio, video, and some publications that impede access to record data." Likewise, agencies must decrypt any encrypted email attachments prior to transfer.

36. What documentation must an agency submit when it transfers Capstone email?

See NARA Bulletin 2014-04, Revised Format Guidance for the Transfer of Permanent Electronic Records, for our requirements for transferring permanent electronic records. In addition, 36 CFR 1235.48 sets out the documentation agencies must provide to transfer permanent electronic records. This documentation should be an extension of the agency's approved form NA-1005, which documents approved permanent Capstone roles and positions. See FAQ 12.

Agencies must transfer to NARA the email of Capstone officials captured during their tenure as Capstone officials. Therefore, agencies should treat email of a Capstone official created prior to when the agency designated that person as a Capstone official (e.g., prior to their promotion/rotation into a Capstone position) as temporary and should not transfer that previous email to NARA. The following is an example of documentation, in the form of a list, of an agency's Capstone officials and the time period for capture of their email as permanent:

Position title	Email Account/Address	Begin Date of Capture	End Date of Capture
Secretary of [Department]	Senior.Official@agency.gov	January 22, 2013
Secretary of [Department]	Secretary@agency.gov	January 22, 2013
Chief Operating Officer	John.Doe@agency.gov	January 22, 2013	June 1, 2013
Chief Operating Officer	Jane.Public@agency.gov	June 2, 2013

Documentation for legacy email should reflect the position title as it existed at the time the records were created. In instances where the position title may not clearly correlate to those on the form NA-1005 (due to title changes, or positions being eliminated), you should include information on the current position title, or the category from item 010 to which it correlates, in the documentation.

For example, the current "Director of Congressional Affairs" (listed on form NA-1005 under category 6) may have previously been the "Legislative Affairs Officer." In this case, the documentation should link to the approved NA-1005 form either by providing the current title or listing the proper category under item 010 to which the position fits.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 6.5: Public Customer Service Records

This schedule covers records an agency creates or receives while providing customer service to the public. Federal agencies that provide direct services to the public operate customer call centers or service centers to assist external customers. They may provide customer support through telephone discussions (toll-free numbers), dialogue (via chat), and email.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) About GRS 6.5, Public Customer Service Records

July 2017

INTRODUCTION

1. What is the purpose of GRS 6.5?

This schedule provides disposition authority for records an agency creates or receives while providing customer service to the public.

2. Whom do I contact for further information about this schedule?

You may contact NARA's General Records Schedules Team at GRS_Team@nara.gov with questions about this schedule.

CHANGES FROM THE OLD GRS

3. How does GRS 6.5 differ from the old General Records Schedule?

Public customer service was never explicitly covered by the old GRS, but is covered in the new GRS. In addition, old items superseded by this schedule include customer or client records, such as mailing lists (GRS 13, items 4a and 4b) and complaints and commendations (GRS 14, item 5, superseded in part).

GENERAL

4. Why are GRS 5.8 Administrative Help Desk Records and GRS 6.5 Public Customer Service Records two separate schedules?

The two schedules reflect different functions. The GRS has separate schedules for administrative support functions (the 5.0 series) and mission support functions (the 6.0 series). Administrative help desk records document administrative support. Public customer service records document mission support. That is why these schedules appear separately.

QUESTION RELATED TO ITEM 020

5. Item 020 covers records that likely include personally identifiable information (PII). Why do you not include instructions for how agencies should handle PII?

The GRS provides instructions for how long agencies must retain records, but does not prescribe how agencies should otherwise manage their records. Agencies should include handling of PII, a form of Controlled Unclassified Information (CUI), in their policies and procedures, in accordance with Government-wide CUI requirements.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) about Flexible Disposition Instructions in the GRS

Updated July 2017

1. What are flexible disposition instructions?

Flexible disposition instructions are those that are in some way open-ended. Examples in the GRS include those that set a minimum retention period, then state “longer retention is authorized if required for business use.” Flexible disposition instructions can allow for either longer or shorter retention periods than the minimum or maximum set by the disposition instruction. For further information on flexible disposition instructions, see Section 3 (“Flexible Retention Periods”) of the FAQs about Flexible Scheduling, at <http://www.archives.gov/records-mgmt/faqs/flexible-scheduling.html>.

2. Why do so many of the new General Records Schedule items have flexible disposition instructions?

The GRS are not like agency-specific schedules. They must apply to all agencies throughout the Federal Government. But we recognize that all agencies may not have identical retention needs, even for records commonly created by multiple agencies. We have approached the GRS instructions as guidelines for agencies in retaining their records. We establish basic retention requirements—usually minimum retention periods—but otherwise, leave it to the agencies to determine their business needs for the records. In other words, with flexible disposition instructions, NARA does not need to review an agency’s disposition instructions for records covered by the GRS as long as they meet the basic retention requirements.

The benefits of this approach are:

- GRS disposition instructions make clear the basic retention requirements and when longer or shorter retention periods are permissible;
- Agencies don’t have to request deviations to the GRS as long as their retention periods fall within the parameters of the GRS instruction;
- The flexible disposition instructions allow multiple GRS items to be bucketed to the longest common retention period, as chosen by the agency; and
- We can potentially cover more temporary items in the GRS, even if agencies have different retention needs.

3. How should flexible disposition instructions be implemented in traditional, non-bucket schedules?

You should update the schedules for your agency to reflect new GRS items and, in doing so, determine the appropriate retention period for your agency’s business needs. You may:

- Use only the minimum retention period. In that case, do not include “longer retention is authorized if required for business use” in your disposition manual;

- Set a specific retention or retention band within the parameters established by the GRS. For example, if the GRS says “Destroy when 3 years old but longer retention is authorized if required for business use,” then the agency disposition manual may say “Destroy when 5 years old”; or
- Use the disposition instruction exactly as written, leaving specific retention up to offices or individual users.

In some cases, you may not have to do anything other than update the GRS disposition authority. As long as your agency’s retention period already falls into the parameters of the GRS, you can cite the GRS without making any other change to your agency’s disposition instructions.

4. How should flexible instructions be implemented in big bucket schedules?

If you wish to continue using an existing big bucket schedule when a new GRS is issued, you need to notify NARA (per 36 CFR 1227.12) of your intent to use your own agency-specific big bucket schedule rather than the GRS. See the “FAQs about GRS Notifications” above in this document. However, as long as the retention periods fall within the parameters of the GRS, there should be no problem with NARA approving use of your agency’s bucket schedule. Be aware that, when determining whether an existing bucket item’s retention period falls within the GRS retention period, you must take into consideration the individual cutoff instructions (when the retention period begins), which may affect retention periods for different items within the bucket.

Records should be bucketed to the longest retention period, but pay attention to cutoff instructions! We often see cases where an agency has incorporated a GRS item with a 3-year retention period into a bucket with 5-year retention. This seems well and good until we look at the GRS item’s cutoff instructions. “Destroy when 5 years old” means the clock starts ticking at document creation. “Destroy 3 years after superseded or obsolete” means the clock may not begin ticking until the document is already several years old. Destruction of everything in a bucket at 5 years of age could wipe out records still in active use.

So how do you resolve this issue in big bucket schedules? The most common way we have seen agencies do it while not completely dismantling buckets is to include non-specific cutoff instructions in the bucket disposition and specific cutoff instructions in an accompanying crosswalk. For example, the disposition instruction states “destroy 5 years after cutoff” and the user refers to the crosswalk to identify the cutoff instruction for the GRS items covered by the bucket. Then each GRS item can indicate unique cutoff requirements.

5. How can agencies using electronic records management applications (RMAs), which require fixed cut-off statements and retention periods, implement the open-ended GRS disposition authorities?

The agency may continue to use fixed disposition instructions suited to RMAs as long as the instructions fit within the parameters of GRS disposition instructions and the agency cites the GRS authority. If the agency schedule's fixed disposition instructions do not fit within the parameters of the new GRS disposition instructions, the agency may ask to use its existing schedules by notifying the GRS Team within 120 days of the new GRS issuance (if the GRS permits). If the agency finds the new GRS authority covers records not previously scheduled by the agency and its business needs require fixed disposition instructions outside the parameters of the new GRS, the agency may request a deviation from the GRS by submitting a new schedule.

6. Can agencies still dispose of records in monthly, quarterly, or annual batches?

Yes. Batching records for disposal is a time-honored custom. For most analog records it's the only really workable option. Batching frequency should reflect volume of records and local storage capacity. Popular batches are records closed in a month, quarter, and year. Batches should not cover more than a single fiscal or calendar year. For example, an agency may choose to retire its closed financial management records on a quarterly basis (e.g. 4th Quarter, 2015), but batch its closed employee hiring records as a single unit covering an entire year (e.g. FY 2015). It is okay that some records from early in the year may be retained for almost an entire additional year before ultimate destruction.

INTRODUCTION TO THE GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULES

General Records Schedules (GRS) are issued by the Archivist of the United States to provide disposition authorization for records common to several or all agencies of the Federal Government. They include records relating to civilian personnel, fiscal accounting, procurement, communications, printing, and other common functions, and certain nontextual records. They also include records relating to temporary commissions, boards, councils and committees. These records comprise an estimated one-third of the total volume of records created by Federal agencies.

In 1978, use of the GRS was made legally mandatory. The disposal authorizations must be used by a Federal agency to the greatest extent possible. Because these schedules are designed to cover records common to several agencies, many of the records descriptions are general. Agency records officers may either use the schedules as an appendix to an agency printed schedule or tailor the general schedules to the agency's own particular needs and incorporate them into agency schedules.

The GRS covers only records that are common among several agencies. For complete coverage of the disposition of all its records, each agency must independently develop schedules for the remaining records. Agencies should exercise particular care in applying items in GRS 1-16 and 18 to subject or correspondence files that may include a mix of administrative and program records. Usually, administrative subject files have short retention periods, less than 3 years. Program subject files may be needed by the agency for 10 years or more and may have archival value as well. Except when the volume of administrative records is negligible, agencies should maintain administrative records separately from program records in their agency recordkeeping systems. If administrative records are mixed with program records in the recordkeeping system and cannot be economically segregated, the entire file must be kept for the period of time approved for the program records. Similarly, if documents described in the GRS are part of a subject or case file that documents activities different from those covered by the schedules, they should be treated in the same manner as the files of which they are a part.

For more information on scheduling records not covered by the GRS, including potentially permanent records, see the Disposition of Federal Records Handbook. Also, the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) has prepared a series of instructional guides that provide information on scheduling nontextual records that are not covered by the GRS. The handbook and separate guides on electronic records, audiovisual records, and cartographic and architectural records are available from the National Archives and Records Administration (NWCP), Room G-9, Washington, DC 20408.

GRS items cover only record copies. In some instances, more than one copy of a document or file would be considered a record if different offices use it to perform different functions. When it is difficult to decide whether files are record or nonrecord materials, the records officer should treat them as records. Records officers may consult with the NARA Life Cycle Management Division (NWML) to determine the record or nonrecord status of particular files.

The disposition instructions in the GRS are to be implemented without further approval from NARA, with the exception that most records created before January 1, 1921, must first be offered to NARA for appraisal. If NARA rejects these records they may be destroyed immediately. GRS 3, 11, 16, and 21 have other delimiting dates. Agencies that convert records covered by the GRS to microform should apply the GRS disposition standards to the microform copies and destroy the paper copies after verification of the film unless legal considerations require longer retention of the paper (36 CFR 1230.10(b)). No further authorization from NARA is required to implement these provisions. If an agency wishes to apply a different retention period for any series of records included in the GRS, the records officer must submit a Standard Form (SF) 115 providing justification for the deviation.

The GRS includes an index of commonly used Standard and Optional Forms. The forms index includes only the forms most frequently used by the various Government agencies.

Items at the end of GRS 1-16, 18, 23, 24, 25 and 26 provide disposition instructions for electronic mail and word processing copies, maintained apart from the recordkeeping copy, of the records described in the other items in those schedules. The other items authorize the disposition of the recordkeeping copy. The electronic mail and word processing records covered in each of those schedules are those that remain in personal and shared directories after the recordkeeping copy has been produced, and electronic copies used for dissemination, revision, or updating that are maintained in addition to the recordkeeping copy.

Questions of applicability of any GRS item to agency records or differences of interpretation between the records officer and other agency personnel that cannot be reconciled within the agency may be referred to the Director, Life Cycle Management Division (NWML), NARA, from offices in the Washington, DC area, or the NARA regional records services facility from offices outside the Washington, DC area.

Some records series covered by the GRS are eligible for retirement to the Washington National Records Center or to records center storage in a NARA regional records services facility. Records should be retired from agency space to such storage only if transfer costs do not exceed the expense of retaining them in agency space. Records sent to records center storage in a NARA facility should have a remaining retention of at least 1 year. If special circumstances, such as lack of filing equipment or space, make it imperative that records be retired, exceptions can be made to this policy. These decisions are made on an individual basis by the appropriate NARA facility director. Procedures for transfer of records to records center storage in a NARA facility are found in NARA regulations (36 CFR 1228.152).

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 1

Civilian Personnel Records

Agency civilian personnel records relate to the supervision over and management of Federal civilian employees. This schedule covers the disposition of Official Personnel Folders of civilian employees and other records relating to civilian personnel, wherever located in the agency. Specifically excluded are program records of the Office of Personnel Management (OPM), the Bureau of Medical Services (PHS/HHS), the Office of Workers' Compensation Programs (DOL), and the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. Any records created prior to January 1, 1921, must be offered to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) for appraisal before these disposition instructions may be applied.

The most important types of records, the Official Personnel Folders, the Service Record Cards, and the Employee Medical Folders, are maintained according to The Guide to Personnel Recordkeeping, an OPM manual that prescribes a system of recordkeeping for Federal personnel.

1. ~~Official Personnel Folders (OPFs).~~

If an agency has such files, it should contact NARA to request appraisal of the files. If NARA rejects the records, the disposition for GRS 1, item 1b applies. (2) Certain agencies have been exempted by OPM from retiring their OPFs to NPRC. These agencies retain OPFs for the period specified in item 1b of this schedule and effect destruction after that period has elapsed.]~~

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 2

Payrolling and Pay Administration Records

Payrolling and pay administration records pertain to disbursements to civilian employees of the Government for personal services. This schedule applies to the pay records that are common to all agencies, but it excludes (a) retirement records (Standard Form (SF) 2806 or equivalent) that are maintained during employee duty and then transferred to the Office of Personnel Management (OPM); (b) files maintained in agency space for audit by the General Accounting Office (GAO) under 31 U.S.C. 3529(c); (c) records relating to tax withholding, savings bonds, fidelity bonds, or other records held by the appropriate units of the Treasury Department responsible for the related Government-wide programs; and (d) Office of Management and Budget files reflecting agency personnel needs and problems. The National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) must be consulted for any records created prior to January 1, 1921 before applying these disposition instructions.

Documents required by the Comptroller General to be maintained for site audit are segments of accountable officer's accounts. In no event may disposal be made of records pertaining to accounts, claims, or demands involving the Government of the United States which have not been settled or adjusted by the GAO unless the agency concerned has written approval of the Comptroller General, as required by 44 U.S.C. 3309. Most Federal civilian pay accounts are prepared and maintained in accordance with Title 6 – Pay, Leave, and Allowances and incorporated in the GAO Policy and Procedures Manual for Guidance of Federal Agencies.

In the payrolling process different types of records are accumulated. Under Title 6 of the GAO Manual these records are normally site audited on a sample basis by GAO representatives who examine primarily the earnings record card, payroll change slips that are prepared to document changes in normal pay, certification sheets containing the signatures of the certifying officer, checklists prepared in lieu of the more formal payrolls by Department of the Treasury or local disbursing personnel, source personnel documents such as basic time and attendance reports, and copies of personnel action forms documenting changes in pay. In addition, pay registers and other accounting devices are maintained to check and balance the accounts.

All payroll systems require the maintenance of a leave record used to submit data to the payroll system. Information is posted to this record from more detailed records kept by time and attendance clerks located throughout an agency. Depending on the type of system in operation, this leave record may be a hard copy input form or it may be a wholly electronic input.

Other records incidental to the payrolling process are employee requests for tax withholding; employee requests for Thrift Savings Plan deductions; savings bond records; and other records not pertaining to individuals, but rather to the general administration of the payrolling office and the payrolling function.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 3

Procurement, Supply, and Grant Records

Agency procurement and supply records document the acquisition of goods and non-personal services, controlling the volume of stock on hand, reporting procurement needs, and related supply matters which are part of daily procurement operations. The basic procurement files reflect a considerable range of procedure, from simple, small purchases to complicated prime contractor and subcontractor operations.

Any records created prior to 1895 must first be offered to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) for appraisal before applying the disposal instructions. Frequently copies of procurement papers become integral parts of the other files in the agency, such as project files of various types or general subject files pertaining to program operations; such copies are not covered by this schedule because they cannot be considered and evaluated separately from the files of which they are a part.

The General Accounting Office (GAO) no longer requires agencies to maintain a separate file of contracts for site audit. The agency contract files maintained in the contracting officer's office are accessible to GAO auditors and have generally been used by them in the past.

When a claim is filed by or against the Government, records relating to the claim should be retained without regard to the otherwise applicable records retention schedules which would have authorized destruction of the records prior to the time when the claim is finally resolved unless the agency has received written approval from the GAO (44 U.S.C. Section 3309 and 62 Comp. Gen. 42 (1982)). A claim is finally resolved: (1) when it is disallowed and the time for appealing the denial or instituting suit on the claim has expired; or (2) when it is allowed and paid or the amount offered in compromise is accepted and paid; or (3) when the amount found due and owing proves uncollectible because time limits for collecting the indebtedness through legal proceedings or by way of setoff have expired.

Records documenting procurement and supply in the agencies are largely standardized by various regulations of the Comptroller General and the Administrator of General Services. The physical arrangement of the transaction files themselves differs in the various agencies, however. In all agencies the official contract files, for example, contain a minimum core of specified documents, but there are also other documents that vary in accordance with what the individual agency deems to be best for its own operating purposes.

The key procurement file is the transaction case file containing the formal contract or informal purchase order or lease instruments and all related papers. The documents flowing into the transaction file differ in detail, but they include, in addition to the purchase document, specifications, bids, schedules of delivery, the initiating requisition, invoices, and correspondence. Other copies of these documents, made for expediting and other administrative purposes, are scattered throughout the inspection, shipping, expediting, and other units of the agency procurement organization.

Other files related to the procurement and supply function include reports used for supply management purposes by the agency creating the records as well as the staff agency involved with Government-wide programs. They also include local requisition and stock inventory files and other minor supply papers.

Of a specialized character in the procurement field are the title papers documenting the acquisition of real property (by purchase, condemnation, donation, exchange, or otherwise). These papers are required by the Government as long as the property remains in Government hands or if it has been sold or released -- conditionally or with recapture clauses. When properties are disposed of by quitclaim deeds, this fact should be confirmed prior to the disposal of title papers, since the title evidence might be needed by the Government to defend the title in the event the properties were disposed of by deeds containing general or special warranties.

It should also be ascertained that the title evidence relates only to the properties which were sold by the Government. In many instances, lands acquired by the Government are disposed of in different size parcels, and if the Government retains the title to any portion the title evidence should be retained.

This schedule does not apply to Interior Department records relating to the public domain or to the title opinion files of the Department of Justice.

This schedule includes some of the common agency records relating to grant programs. Since many Federal agencies conduct grant programs which document projects contracted between the agency and an outside party, these records are included as an adjunct to the procurement and supply records.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 4

Property Disposal Records

These records pertain to the sales by agencies of real and personal property surplus to the needs of the Government. The act creating the General Services Administration (GSA) transferred to the new agency the functions of the former War Assets Administration relating to property disposition. This schedule is not applicable to transaction or policy files created by the GSA and predecessor agencies, to records in the Department of the Interior relating to the public domain, and to records relating to overseas property under Department of State control. Any surplus property transaction files dated prior to the establishment of the former Procurement Division of the Department of Treasury in 1933 must be offered to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) for appraisal before applying these disposition instructions.

In no event may disposal be made of records pertaining to accounts, claims, or demands involving the Government of the United States which have not been settled or adjusted by the General Accounting Office without written approval of the Comptroller General, as required by 44 U.S.C. 3309.

Three forms are prescribed for use by an agency selling surplus personal property under GSA regulations:

a. Standard Form (SF) 114, Sale of Government Property, Invitation, Bid, and Acceptance. Related papers that are maintained by the agencies, usually in case fashion, consist of correspondence, bids, other notices of sale, invoices, and sales slips.

b. SF 120, Report of Excess Personal Property, and SF 121, Quarterly Report of Utilization and Disposal of Excess and Surplus Personal Property. Agencies use SF 120 to report excess personal property to the regional GSA offices, which initiate screening action. The quarterly reports are submitted to the Office of Property Management, Office of Federal Supply and Services, GSA, which consolidates the data.

1. ~~Property Disposal Correspondence Files.~~

Correspondence files maintained by units responsible for property disposal, pertaining to their operation and administration, and not otherwise provided for. Superseded by GRS 5.4, item 040 (DAA-GRS-2016-0011-0004)

2. ~~Excess Personal Property Reports.~~ Superseded by GRS 5.4, item 040 (DAA-GRS-2016-0011-0004)

3. ~~Surplus Property Case Files.~~

Case files on sales of surplus personal property, comprising invitations, bids, acceptances, lists of materials, evidence of sales, and related correspondence.

a. ~~Transactions of more than $25,000.~~ Superseded by GRS 1.1, item 010 (DAA-GRS-2013-0003-0001)

b. ~~Transactions of $25,000 or less.~~ Superseded by GRS 1.1, item 010 (DAA-GRS-2013-0003-0001)

4. ~~Real Property Files. [See note after this item.]~~

~~Records necessary or convenient for the use of real property sold, donated, or traded to non-Federal ownership, including, if pertinent as determined by the releasing agency, site maps and surveys, plot plans, architect's sketches, working diagrams, preliminary drawings, blueprints, master tracings, utility outlet plans, equipment location plans, specifications, construction progress photographs, inspection reports, building and equipment management and maintenance records, allowance lists, and duplicate copies of title papers, provided (a) that the records can be segregated without harm to other documents of enduring value, (b) that no responsibility attaches to the Government because of disagreement between the transferred documents and the physical condition of the property at the time of conveyance, and (c) that if the property is released for historical use or purpose, the user agrees to retain them and return them to the Federal Government immediately upon the discontinuance of its use for historical purposes.~~ Superseded by GRS 5.4, item 020 (DAA-GRS-2016-0011-0002) and GRS 5.4, item 051 (DAA-GRS-2016-0011-0006)

~~[NOTE: Case files on the disposal of surplus real and related personal property and excess real property reports are not covered by the GRS because some of these files may have long-term legal value. Agencies must schedule these series by submitting an SF 115 to NARA.]~~

Budget Preparation, Presentation, and Apportionment Records

Budget and apportionment records include the various files accumulated in an agency in the course of formulating its budget for submission to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) and to the Congress; in defending its requests for funds before both bodies; and after enactment of an appropriation bill, in ensuring that the funds are used in such a way as to suffice for the appropriate period of time. The funds are made available to the agency by OMB, usually in quarterly portions, and the agencies must indicate and justify regularly to OMB their proposed rate of expenditure. After the funds have been made available to the agency, its own controls over the funds are in its expenditure accounting records (Schedule 7), and detailed information relative to expenditures is contained in the accountable officers' accounts (Schedule 6).

This schedule applies to certain records of budget preparation and apportionment in all agencies, but does not apply to records of OMB and the Department of Treasury reflecting the Government-wide budget responsibilities of those agencies. Records created prior to January 1, 1921, must be offered to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) before applying the disposition instructions.

Agency budget records are normally created at all levels of agency organization. They show proposals from all operating levels as well as the bureau-wide and agency-wide coordinating work done by formally organized budget offices. Therefore the records consist of detailed work papers and budgetary statements developed by single operating units, the more significant budget statements and related papers representing consolidated submissions prepared at the bureau or equivalent level and forwarded to the agency budget officer, and the records at the highest level pertaining to the budget submission for the entire agency.

The nature of the budget presentation itself is standardized by OMB which prescribes format and procedures for all Federal agencies. However, the internal reports and papers which support the budget and are used in its preparation vary from agency to agency. The budget submission, a record copy of which is usually designated by the agency, is a duplicate of the set of papers submitted to OMB. These include summary statements of appropriations and expenditures, statements of contract authorizations, and statements of receipts as well as narrative summary statements which highlight the principal features of the agency requests and immediately related supporting documents. The narrative presents the policies and the programs of the agency which the budgetary requests are to support. In addition to the summaries, the submission includes schedules of obligations and statements pertaining to each type of appropriation and fund under which the individual agency operates. Finally, OMB requires additional supporting data pertaining to objects of expenditure, particular agency programs, and figures based on the cost of various type of service operations, such as personnel and payrolling activities.

1. Budget Correspondence Files.

Correspondence files in formally organized budget offices pertaining to routine administration, internal procedures, and other matters not covered elsewhere in this schedule, EXCLUDING files relating to agency policy and procedure maintained in formally organized budget offices.

Destroy when 2 years old. (GRS 5, 1952, items 1 and 3)

2. Budget Background Records.

Cost statements, rough data and similar materials accumulated in the preparation of annual budget estimates, including duplicates of budget estimates and justifications and related appropriation language sheets, narrative statements, and related schedules; and originating offices' copies of reports submitted to budget offices.

Destroy 1 year after the close of the fiscal year covered by the budget. (NC1-GRS-81-13 item 2)

3. Budget Reports Files.

Periodic reports on the status of appropriation accounts and apportionment.

a. Annual report (end of fiscal year).

Destroy when 5 years old. (GRS 5, 1952, item 5a)

b. All other reports.

4. Budget Apportionment Files. [See note after this item.]

Apportionment and reapportionment schedules, proposing quarterly obligations under each authorized appropriation.

Destroy 2 years after the close of the fiscal year. (GRS 5, 1952, item 6)

[NOTE: The following budget files are not covered by the GRS:

- * Budget office correspondence or subject files documenting budget policy and procedures and reflecting policy decisions affecting expenditures for agency programs.
- * Budget estimates and justifications of formally organized budget offices at the bureau (or equivalent) or higher organizational level. Depending on agency recordkeeping practices and patterns of documentation, these records may have archival value and must be scheduled by submitting a Standard Form 115 to NARA. (GRS 5, 1952, items 1 and 2)]

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 6

~~Accountable Officers' Accounts Records~~

~~This general schedule covers accountable officers' returns and related records, including records under the cognizance of the General Accounting Office (GAO). This schedule does not apply to the copies of schedules and related papers held by the Chief Disbursing Officer of the Treasury. Any records created prior to January 1, 1921, must be offered to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) before applying these disposition instructions.~~

~~Accountable officers' accounts include record copies of all records concerned with the accounting for, availability, and status of public funds. There are several types of "accountable officers," such as: (a) the collecting officer, who receives monies owed to the Federal Government and ensures that it is credited to the proper account; (b) the disbursing officer who is responsible for providing documentation to GAO, since he/she accomplishes the actual payment of public monies to proper Federal creditors; and (c) the certifying officer, whose signature on a summary attests to the authenticity of vouchers listed on the schedule.~~

~~Disbursements for most civilian Government agencies are made by the Chief Disbursing Officer of the Treasury, who heads the Division of Disbursement of the Bureau of Government Financial Operations within the Department of Treasury. Since July 1949, disbursements have been made for most agencies on the basis of certified schedules, with the detailed vouchers transferred to GAO from the agency or held in agency space if a site audit was involved. This procedure was extended and confirmed by GAO General Regulation No. 115, issued January 29, 1952, which promulgated a standard form voucher and schedule of payments (Standard Form (SF) 1166 and SF 1167) for use by all agencies, effective July 1, 1952, and formally eliminated the transfer of vouchers of the Chief Disbursing Officer of the Treasury.~~

~~This schedule includes records held for onsite audit by GAO, as described in item 1a below. Under onsite audit, vouchers, contracts, schedules, statements of transactions and accountability, and other related supporting documents are retained in agency space for GAO auditors. Section 5 of the Post Office Department Financial Control Act of 1950 and Section 117(b) of the Budget and Accounting Procedures Act of 1950 (whenever the Comptroller General determines that an audit shall be conducted at the site) require agencies to retain these records, which are under GAO cognizance. GAO has given general authority to the agencies, if the records are no longer required for administrative purposes, to transfer all audited records and any unaudited records more than 1 full fiscal year old to Federal records centers. However, to transfer unaudited accountable officers' accounts less than one year old, permission must be obtained from the Director, Records Management, GAO. Because the records previously transferred to GAO are retained in the agency, some agencies have eliminated the creation of memorandum copies as described in item 1b of this schedule.~~

~~Records relating to the availability, collection, and custody of funds include (1) the appropriation warrants, (2) other documents that deposit funds into the Treasury, and (3) documents that provide accountable officers with status reports on funds in their custody, such as the proofs of depository account and statements of funds to their credit. Agency copies of these deposit and status documents are so intimately related to the accounts of these officers that they are included in this schedule. The copies received by the Fiscal Service of the Department of Treasury are not covered by this schedule and are provided for in separate schedules.~~

1. ~~Accountable Officers' Files. Superseded by GRS 1.1, item 010 (DAA-GRS-2013-0003-0001)~~

- a. ~~Original or ribbon copy of accountable officers' accounts maintained in the agency for site audit by GAO auditors, consisting of statements of transactions, statements of accountability, collection schedules, collection vouchers, disbursement schedules, disbursement vouchers, and all other schedules and vouchers or documents used as schedules or vouchers, exclusive of commercial passenger transportation and freight records and payroll records, EXCLUDING accounts and supporting documents pertaining to American Indians. If an agency is operating under an integrated accounting system approved by GAO, certain required documents supporting vouchers and/or schedules are included in the site audit records. These records document only the basic financial transaction, money received and money paid out or deposited in the course of operating the agency. All copies except the certified payment or collection copy, usually the original or ribbon copy, and all additional or supporting documentation not involved in an integrated system are covered by succeeding items in this schedule.~~

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 7

Expenditure Accounting Records

Expenditure accounting records are the ledgers and related documents maintained by all Federal agencies to show in summary fashion how their funds, appropriated and nonappropriated, are spent after allotment by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB), and the sources and nature of any receipts. The key records are the general ledger accounts, which constitute, as a unit, the heart of the agency accounting system. These ledgers summarize the financial status and financial transactions of the agency, showing the current status of funds available for expenditure, the amounts due and collected for the account of the Government, accumulated expenditures and liabilities, and the values of stock, equipment, and other property in agency custody. They are controls that serve not only as central fiscal records, but also as a primary source of data for top management concerned with agency solvency, expenditures, and program costs.

The general ledgers are subdivided into arbitrarily created account titles, which are based on programs, projects, costs, and funds. Supporting them are a group of subsidiary ledgers and documents further detailing the information in the general ledgers or serving as posting media to the ledgers themselves. To the extent that they reflect appropriation expenditures, the general ledgers are supported by allotment ledgers, which at all times show the current unobligated balance of funds allotted for specific agency purposes and thereby provide a safeguard against overexpenditure by operating officials. The allotment ledgers are general controls over expenditures, and they, in turn, summarize and are supported by more detailed controls that normally take the form of project or job orders that authorize exact and specific expenditures.

The sources of data that are posted to the ledger files are somewhat diverse, but they fall into two general groups:

- a. Copies of various obligation or expenditure documents, such as vouchers and schedules, that flow through the ledger unit for posting.
- b. Journal vouchers and similar internal control documents created to authorize and convey entries to the general ledger.

As the centralized fiscal record, the general ledgers ultimately summarize stores, plant, and cost accounting data, which are treated in a separate schedule, but these are only several aspects of the total ledger accounts. Consequently, the ledgers are the source of the data included in the basic apportionment reports to the OMB and the Department of Treasury, and overall reports of agency fiscal condition which may be required by the General Accounting Office (GAO) (Schedules 6 and 8). The adequacy for audit purposes of the general ledger accounts is normally considered by GAO auditors to be indicative of the agency's entire accounting system and the reliability of its financial data.

This schedule does not apply to such records maintained on a Government-wide basis by the Department of Treasury and the OMB, or to those formerly maintained by the GAO. Any records created prior to January 1, 1921, must be offered to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) before applying these disposition instructions.

When a claim is filed by or against the Government, records relating to the claim should be retained without regard to the otherwise applicable records retention schedules that would have authorized destruction of the records prior to the time when the claim is finally resolved, unless the agency has received written approval from the GAO (44 U.S.C. Section 3309 and 62 Comp. Gen. 42 (1982)). A claim is finally resolved: (1) when it is disallowed and the time for appealing the denial or instituting suit on the claim has expired; or (2) when it is allowed and paid or the amount offered in compromise is accepted and paid; or (3) when the amount found due and owing proves uncollectible because time limits for collecting the indebtedness through legal proceedings or by way of setoff have expired.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 8

Stores, Plant, and Cost Accounting Records

Specialized stores, plant, and cost accounting records are maintained by most agencies, particularly those with extensive plant and stock inventories. These records, which reflect the net monetary worth of an agency and its assets, are periodically reconciled with the supply data found in stock inventory records, but they do not include procurement papers. Any records created prior to January 1, 1921, must be offered to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) before applying these disposition instructions.

a. ~~Stores Accounting.~~ These records are maintained to provide personal accountability for the receipt and custody of materials and to document the monetary worth of such materials. Completed copies of material movement documents show custody, and stores accounting data are normally reviewed and consolidated by means of records and returns submitted to agency headquarters. There the information is used for procurement planning, budget, and other management purposes. These records do not include records reflecting the physical movements of material to and from storage points, although they may be involved in posting. Summary data on plant value are also available in pertinent ledger accounts.

b. ~~Plant Accounting.~~ These records document principal characteristics of each item of physical plant and equipment, including real property. They constitute primarily a type of inventory control, but in addition are a principal source of data on the capital investment in physical plant (as distinguished from maintenance or operating costs) and other items not normally represented in a store or stock inventory system. Summary data on plant value are also maintained.

c. ~~Cost Accounting.~~ These records are designed to show accumulated data on the costs of agency operation, the direct and indirect costs of production, administration, and performance of program functions of the agency. The data, which are normally accumulated by means of cost reports and statistics accumulated by operating personnel, are ultimately integrated into the accounts concerned with operating and program costs. Material cost information is collected by posting requisitions for material or procurement documents to intermediate records, and labor cost information is obtained by charging time expended on individual jobs and projects assigned control numbers for cost control purposes. Cost data are used in evaluating economy of agency operation and in preparing budget estimates.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 9

Travel and Transportation Records

This schedule covers records documenting the movement of goods and persons under Government orders. The records include bills of lading, transportation requests, transportation vouchers, per diem vouchers, travel authorizations, and all supporting documentation, including that prescribed by Title 5 of the General Accounting Office Policy and Procedures Manual. Record copies of all travel, transportation, and freight documents used to support payments become components of the accountable officers' accounts. GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 15

Housing Records

The housing records covered by this schedule include files and data accumulated in the maintenance and management of Federally owned and operated housing facilities within the continental United States for civilian employees of the Federal Government, military personnel, and others eligible by law to reside in the projects. These facilities may consist of low cost quarters located either within or adjacent to the confines of Federal installations or in a critical defense or other area. This schedule includes housing records maintained by housing managers and housing or quarters offices, but does not cover the headquarters or staff office files of the supervising agency, or the files of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, the Department of Health and Human Services, or the Department of Veterans Affairs pertaining to program operations in planning and financing housing facilities.

Maintenance records reflect repair and general upkeep of the housing project or units. Management involves the assignment and rental of units, rent collection and other fiscal operations, and overall supervision. However, rental charges for military personnel are normally represented by checkages made against pay accounts.

Certain housing records are subject to the provisions of other General Records Schedules. Supply and fiscal files are covered by General Records Schedules 3 and 6. Schedules 1, 2, 8, and 10 may also be involved. Many records of agent cashiers serving as housing rental managers are similar to those of other Federal accountable officers and are disposable under General Records Schedule 6.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 16

Administrative Management Records

This schedule provides for the disposal of certain records relating to administrative management activities in Federal agencies, excluding records of operating personnel, budget, accounting, and printing functions, which are covered by other General Records Schedules. Included within the scope of the schedule are disposable records created in the course of organizational planning, development, and simplification of procedures; records management activities; and administration of management improvement programs. General Records Schedule 1 (Items 12 and 13) provide for the disposition of case files on individuals involved in incentive award and similar types of management improvement programs. Any records created prior to January 1, 1939, must be offered to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) before applying these disposition instructions.

The organizational locations and titles of administrative management units vary from agency to agency. They may be scattered at numerous levels or locations, or may be centralized. For the purposes of this schedule, the nomenclature standards set forth by the Senate Committee on Government Operations in Senate Report No. 245, 80th Congress, 1st session, are followed: the first organizational level within an agency is the bureau level; subordinate components are, successively, division, branch, section, and unit.

This schedule is based on the presumption that management activities are carried on by a specialized person or unit with, at least, division-wide and usually bureau-wide or agency-wide responsibilities or by a group of such persons or units in an agency, although its provisions are applicable to exactly comparable records of agencies without such formal assignments of responsibility. Many similar or comparable records created at lower organizational levels or in field offices vary so greatly in content, value, and arrangement that they are not covered by this schedule.

Because of the nature of the activities documented by administrative management records, a relatively large proportion of them is of continuing value. Files with potential archival value are not covered by the General Records Schedules. They must be scheduled individually by submission of a Standard Form (SF) 115 to NARA. These records include organizational charts and reorganization studies, functional statements, delegations of authority, and agency histories. However, related temporary or ephemeral materials include working papers that do not have a direct bearing on the transaction, intermediate drafts of documents and worksheets that do not represent significant basic steps in the preparation of final drafts, letters or memoranda of transmittal and acknowledgment, routing slips, and extra copies of documents.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 17

~~Cartographic, Aerial Photographic, Architectural, and Engineering Records~~

Federal agencies create or receive cartographic, aerial photographic, architectural, and engineering design records in connection with their official activities. Many of these records have continuing historical value after they are no longer being used by the agency. Descriptions of both historically valuable and temporary records were formerly included in General Records Schedule 17, Cartographic, Remote Sensing Imagery, and Related Records, and in General Records Schedule 22, Design and Construction Drawings and Related Records. The General Records Schedules have been revised to cover only temporary records, and this schedule covers temporary records formerly included in those two schedules. Guidelines for identifying and scheduling the records of continuing value are now provided in "Managing Cartographic and Architectural Records: An Instructional Guide." The Guide must be used in conjunction with the General Records Schedule to ensure proper disposition of all cartographic, aerial photographic, architectural, and engineering design records held by an agency.

This schedule relates to cartographic records prepared during intermediate stages of publication, unannotated aerial photographic negatives and prints, and architectural and engineering drawings. Cartographic and aerial photographic records created before January 1, 1950, and architectural or engineering drawings created before January 1, 1921, must be brought to the attention of the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) before applying the disposition instructions in this schedule.

1. ~~Cartographic Records Prepared During Intermediate Stages of Publication.~~

Scribed plastic sheets, color separation sheets, composites prepared as a step in the making of color separation sheets, photographic negatives, glass plate negatives, enlargements or reductions, color pulls, proof copies subject to final revision, "correction file" maps annotated to show corrections to be incorporated into the next edition of the published map, and similar items whose informational content is duplicated by the final published map. Superseded by GRS 6.4, item 030 (DAA-GRS-2016-0005-0003)

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 18

~~Security and Protective Services Records~~

~~Security and protective services records include the various files created by agencies to control and protect classified information; to protect Government facilities from unauthorized entry, sabotage, or loss; to ensure the adequacy of protective measures at privately owned plants given security cognizance by the Government; to determine loyalty and fitness of individuals employed by, or seeking employment from the Government; and to develop and implement plans for the protection of life and property under emergency conditions. Included are selected files of offices having Government-wide or agencywide responsibility for security and protective services programs. Also included are files of security units, guard forces, and other organizational elements documenting the control of classified information, access to facilities, and like matters.~~

~~This schedule authorizes for disposal records documenting administrative actions relating to the above functions. Records documenting Government-wide or agencywide security and protective services planning and programming, reflecting basic overall policies and determinations are not authorized for disposal by this schedule. Variations among agencies in methods of implementing statutory requirements for security and protective services result in dissimilarities in program documentation. The application of standard techniques of filing and disposition to such records through the medium of a General Records Schedule is therefore impractical. Any records created prior to January 1, 1921, must be offered to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) before applying these disposition instructions.~~

Electronic Records

This schedule provides disposal authorization for certain electronic records and for specified paper, microform, or other hard copy records that are integrally related to the electronic records.

This schedule applies to electronic records created or received by Federal agencies including those managed for agencies by contractors. It covers records created by computer operators, programmers, analysts, systems administrators, and all personnel with access to a computer. Disposition authority is provided for certain master files, including some tables that are components of data base management systems, and certain files created from master files for specific purposes. In addition, this schedule covers certain electronic records produced by end users in office automation applications. These disposition authorities apply to the categories of electronic records described in GRS 20, regardless of the type of computer used to create or store these records.

GRS 20 does not cover all electronic records. Disposition may not be carried out for electronic records not covered by GRS 20 unless authorized by a Standard Form (SF) 115, Request for Records Disposition Authority, that has been approved by the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA). The records covered by several items in this schedule are authorized for erasure or deletion when the agency determines that they are no longer needed for administrative, legal, audit, or other operational purposes. NARA cannot establish a more specific retention that would be appropriate in all applications. Each agency should, when appropriate, determine a more specific disposition instruction, such as "Delete after X update cycles" or "Delete when X years old," for inclusion in its records disposition directives or manual. NARA approval is not needed to set retention periods for records in the GRS that are authorized for destruction when no longer needed.

Items 1a (in part), 2a, and 16 of this schedule apply to hard copy records used in conjunction with electronic files. Item 1 also covers printouts produced to test, use, and maintain master files. Items 10 and 11 of this schedule should be applied to special purpose programs and documentation for the referenced electronic records whatever the medium in which such programs and documentation exist.

This schedule has been revised to expand the authority agencies have to apply previously approved schedules to electronic records; grant broader authority to agencies to dispose of hard copy records that have been converted to an electronic format; and provide disposition instructions for ad hoc printouts and for documentation associated with permanent electronic records. Additionally, because copies of system security records are now covered by GRS 24, item 5, a cross-reference has been provided for item 11b to that effect. The items affected by the revisions to this GRS 20 schedule are 2, 3, 3-1, 11, and 16.

Electronic versions of most records authorized for disposal elsewhere in the GRS may be deleted under the provisions of item 3 of GRS 20. See also 36 CFR Part 1234 for NARA regulations on electronic records management.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 21

Audiovisual Records

This schedule covers audiovisual and related records created by or for agencies of the Federal Government as well as those acquired in the course of business. For audiovisual records that are not described in this schedule, agencies must request disposition authority by submitting a Standard Form (SF) 115, Request for Records Disposition Authority, to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) Life Cycle Management Division (NWML).

Audiovisual records include still and motion picture photography, graphic materials, and sound and video recordings. Related documentation includes (1) production files or other files documenting the creation, justification, ownership, and rights to the records and (2) finding aids used to identify or access the records.

This schedule does not cover: (1) cartographic records, (2) remote sensing imagery recorded on film or magnetic tape, or (3) microform copies of textual records. Disposable cartographic records and remote sensing imagery recorded on film are covered by GRS 17; temporary computerized data are covered by GRS 20 and GRS 23; and microform copies of textual records that have been authorized by NARA for destruction need not be separately scheduled, in accordance with 36 CFR 1230.10(b).

This schedule does not include descriptions of permanent or potentially permanent records. Guidance about the identification, maintenance, use, and disposition of potentially permanent audiovisual records is provided in the NARA publication, "Managing Audiovisual Records: An Instructional Guide" and NARA records management regulations at 36 CFR 1228.184, Audiovisual Records.

The word "destroy" is used to authorize the destruction of data or information. Erasable media such as audio tape should be reused whenever practical. Silver-bearing photographic film must be destroyed in accordance with 41 CFR 101-45.10, "Recovery of Precious Metals."

This General Records Schedule authorizes the disposal of certain records without further concurrence from NARA. Agencies are encouraged to include specific series descriptions for such records in their comprehensive schedules while citing the applicable disposition instruction from this General Records Schedule as the authority for destroying the records.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 24

Information Technology Operations and Management Records

This schedule provides disposal authorization for certain files created and maintained in the operation and management of information technology (IT) and related services. As defined in the Information Technology Management Reform Act of 1996 (now the Clinger-Cohen Act), "information technology" includes computers, ancillary equipment, software, firmware and similar procedures, services (including support services), and related resources.

This GRS does not cover all records relating to information technology operations and management. Offices with responsibility for IT operations also maintain administrative records covered by other GRS and records not in the GRS that must be scheduled by the agency. In addition, this GRS does not apply to system data or information content, which must be scheduled separately by submitting an SF 115, Request for Records Disposition Authority, to NARA.

The disposition instructions apply to records regardless of physical form or characteristics. Records may be maintained on paper, in microform, or electronically. Dispositions apply, however, only to records that are maintained as described in each item or subitem. If documents are part of a larger case file or recordkeeping system that contains records not covered in this GRS, agencies must separately schedule that file or system by submitting an SF 115 to NARA. If records covered by more than one item in this schedule are maintained together in one file or recordkeeping system, agencies must retain the records for the longest retention period authorized for those items.

Note that GRS 20, Electronic Records, remains in effect. GRS 20 covers certain temporary files associated with data base management. This new schedule supplements GRS 20 by providing disposal authority for temporary records relating to overall IT management, as opposed to the operation and use of specific systems. NARA is reviewing alternatives to GRS 20 and will develop revised requirements as it explores new approaches to managing electronic records. GRS 20 superseded by GRS Transmittal 24.

Under the relevant sections of title IV and Office of Government Ethics (OGE) executive branch wide regulation at 5 C.F.R. part 2638, each agency is required to establish an ethics program. This schedule covers records documenting the activities of executive branch agency ethics program offices and provides disposition for financial disclosure reports; ethics agreements; outside employment and activity records; referrals of violations of criminal conflict of interest statutes; ethics determination, advice, consultation, and training records; and other commonly held ethics program records. Records pertaining to legislative branch and judicial ethics programs, the Hatch Act, the Whistleblower Protection Act, procurement integrity and other areas often associated with, but not expressly under the authority of executive branch ethics programs, are not covered by this schedule.

Master lists of financial disclosure report filers, individuals requesting outside employment and activities approval, and other types of ethics related master lists are not included in this schedule. Ethics related master lists that are used solely for the purpose of tracking and controlling ethics records should be disposed of in accordance with GRS 23 Item 8, Tracking and Control Records. Master lists that are used for purposes in addition to tracking and controlling ethics records should be disposed of in accordance with the disposition for the underlying records as listed in this schedule or as otherwise scheduled.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 26

Temporary Commissions, Boards, Councils and Committees

This schedule covers records created and maintained by temporary commissions, boards, councils and committees (including continuing entities governed by renewable charters such as agency advisory committees). In the case of interagency bodies, this schedule covers the records maintained by the designated secretariat as well as records accumulated by other commission members.

This schedule does not apply to the records of Presidential commissions, boards, councils and committees covered by the Presidential Records Act.

For convenience, the term “commission” is used in this schedule to cover all types of temporary organizations.

The record series described in this schedule are created and maintained in different media and formats, therefore this schedule is written to authorize the disposition of the records in any media (media neutral). Agencies are required to refer to the most current version of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) and other relevant guidance to ensure that the media and format that is chosen by the agency meets NARA’s transfer requirements for permanent records. See 36 CFR Sections: 1228.266 – Audiovisual Records; 1228.268 – Cartographic and Architectural Records; 1228.270 – Electronic Records; 1230.026 – Microform Records

When records are created and maintained electronically, NARA prefers that the archival copy be transferred to the National Archives in an approved electronic format.

GENERAL RECORDS SCHEDULE 27

Records of the Chief Information Officer

This schedule provides disposal authorization for certain records created and maintained by Federal Chief Information Officers (CIO) and their program offices. This schedule applies to the records of CIOs at agency or departmental headquarters as well as those of deputy and subordinate CIOs at the bureau or field office level. This schedule does not apply to officials with Government-wide responsibilities for information resources management (IRM) and information technology (IT) governance.

In accordance with the Clinger-Cohen Act (originally the Information Technology Management Reform Act), CIOs of 24 major departments and agencies have IRM as their primary duty. They are responsible for advising and assisting the agency's executive with IT acquisition and management; developing and maintaining the agency's IT architecture; promoting the efficient design and operation of the agency's major information resources management processes; monitoring the performance of IT programs of the agency; and developing the knowledge and skill of IT staff. CIOs may also lead, coordinate, or participate in programs to support the mandates of the Paperwork Reduction Act, Government Paperwork Elimination Act, Federal Records Act, E-Government Act of 2002, Privacy Act, Government Performance and Results Act, and other Federal laws and regulations relating to IRM.

This schedule does not cover all records relating to the work of CIOs. CIOs are often responsible for programs and activities whose records are already covered by an approved GRS. Records not described in this or any other GRS must be scheduled by submission to NARA of an SF 115, Request for Records Disposition Authority. If records are part of a larger case file or recordkeeping system that contains records not covered in this schedule, agencies must separately schedule those records or systems by submitting an SF 115 to NARA. If records covered by more than one item in this schedule are maintained together in one file or recordkeeping system, agencies must retain the records for the longest retention period authorized for those items.

The disposition instructions apply to records regardless of physical form or characteristics. Records may be maintained in any format on any medium.

~~Note that GRS 20, Electronic Records, remains in effect. GRS 20 covers certain temporary files associated with database management.~~ This schedule supplements GRS 20 by providing disposal authority for records relating to the administration of a CIO's office, as opposed to the operation and use of specific systems. This schedule does not apply to the data or information content of IT systems. Records relating to specific systems that support or document the agency's mission must be scheduled individually by submission of an SF 115 to NARA. GRS 20 was entirely superseded by GRS Transmittal 24.

1. Information Technology (IT) Program Planning Records

Records relating to the development of agency IT programs. Included are records that document agency-wide IT goals; specify milestones to be achieved; identify performance measures for the agency's IT portfolio; or summarize the underlying principles and approach by which the agency will plan for and manage its IT resources. Records may include strategic and tactical plans documenting the implementation and maintenance of IT systems in support of the agency mission and also may include records supporting formally issued plans, such as records of concurrence, comments, clearances, justifications, and other issuance records.

Cut off annually. Destroy/delete when 7 years old or when no longer needed, whichever is later. (N1-GRS-04-4 item 1)

[Note: This item does not apply to the data content or design of individual IT systems. Records relating to specific mission-related systems must be scheduled individually by submission of an SF 115 to NARA. (N1-GRS-04-4 item 1 Note)]

2. Enterprise Architecture Records

Records identifying the IT systems and networks required to perform the agency's mission and the transitional processes required to implement comprehensive programs to support that mission. Records may include technical reference models, diagrams, graphics, models, and narratives that describe the agency's baseline architecture, target architecture, and related sequencing plans.

Cut off when superseded by a new iteration of the enterprise architecture. Destroy/delete when 7 years old or when no longer needed, whichever is later. (N1-GRS-04-4 item 2)

3. IT Capital Investment Records

Records documenting the integration of IT investments with agency-wide strategic planning, budgeting, procurement, and management. Records include routine and periodic reports on IT capital investments; capital asset plans; business cases for major investments, systems, acquisitions, or operational assets identified in the agency's capital investment portfolio; and clearance and review records.

Cut off annually. Destroy/delete when 7 years old or when no longer needed, whichever is later. (N1-GRS-04-4 item 3)

[Note: Records needed to support contracts are scheduled under GRS 3. (N1-GRS-04-4 item 3 Note)]

4. ~~Legal and Regulatory Compliance Records~~

~~Records documenting agency compliance with Federal IRM laws and regulations, including systems and reports created to support compliance with the mandates of OMB, GAO, and other Federal IRM and IT oversight agencies. Superseded by GRS 4.2, item 080 (DAA-GRS-2013-0007-0022)~~

5. CIO Committee Records

Records maintained by committees, boards, task forces, conferences, or other IT advisory, governing, or policy bodies for which the CIO has designated sponsorship, leadership, or recordkeeping responsibilities. Records include meeting minutes, summaries, agendas, and transcripts; reports, studies, and publications; membership records; correspondence, mailing, and distribution records; and other administrative committee records.

Cut off annually. Destroy/delete when 5 years old. (N1-GRS-04-4 item 5)

[Note: Records of Government-wide committees sponsored by CIOs, such as the Federal Chief Information Officers Council, are not covered by this item. (N1-GRS-04-4 item 5 Note)]

6. ~~CIO Subject and Office Records~~

~~Records not otherwise identified in this GRS that include briefings, reports, presentations, studies, correspondence, and other documents created to support IT program objectives; responses to and decisions on matters affecting the IT program; or operational and managerial guidance to all organizational segments of the agency. Rescinded per GRS Transmittal 27~~

~~[Note: Official agency policy records generated by the CIO are not covered by this item. They are considered agency policy and issuance records and are scheduled elsewhere.]~~

7. ~~Schedules of Daily Activities~~

~~Calendars, appointment books, schedules, logs, diaries, and other records documenting meetings, appointments, telephone calls, trips, visits, and other activities by the CIO while serving in an official capacity, EXCLUDING materials determined to be personal and those that have been incorporated into other recordkeeping systems. Rescinded per GRS Transmittal 27~~

~~[Note: This item applies only to records of the CIO, not of the office's subordinate staff. See GRS 23/5 for coverage of the latter.]~~

Frequently Asked Questions about General Records Schedule 27,
*Records of the Chief Information Officer

1. To whom does General Records Schedule 27 apply?

GRS 27 provides disposal authorization for certain records created and maintained by Federal Chief Information Officers (CIO). This schedule applies to the records of CIOs at agency or departmental headquarters as well as those of deputy and subordinate CIOs at the bureau or field office level.

2. Does this schedule describe all of the records of Federal CIOs?

Not necessarily. CIOs are often responsible for programs and activities whose records are covered by another General Records Schedule or approved agency records schedule.

3. How does this schedule differ from GRS 20, Electronic Records, and GRS 24, Information Technology (IT) Operations and Management Records?

GRS 20 and GRS 24 cover certain records associated with the day-to-day operation of individual information systems and related support services. GRS 27 provides disposal authority for records documenting the administration of the office of the CIO and its agency-wide information resources management.

4. How does GRS 27/4, “Legal and Regulatory Compliance Records,” differ from GRS 24/1, “Oversight and Compliance Files”?

GRS 27/4 covers CIO records that document an agency’s compliance with Federal laws and regulations governing information resources management. GRS 24/1 covers records that document an office’s or a system’s compliance with the IT policies, directives, and plans that are typically developed or issued by the agency CIO.

5. Does this schedule cover records related to IT security?

Insofar as they document agency-wide efforts to comply with the laws and regulations that govern IT security, such CIO records would be covered by 27/4, “Legal and Regulatory Compliance Records.” However, records that document the security of individual IT systems – including vulnerability assessments, audits, risk management analyses, and security plans – are covered by GRS 24/5, “Files Related to Maintaining the Security of Systems and Data.” Records related to specific security breaches or incidents are covered by GRS 24/7, “Computer Security Incident Handling, Reporting and Follow-up Records.”

6. Does this schedule cover system data?

This schedule does not apply to the data or information content of IT systems. Records relating to specific systems that support or document the agency’s mission must be scheduled individually by submission of an SF 115 to the National Archives.

7. Do records have to be arranged in these categories?

No. If records covered by more than one item in this schedule are maintained together in one file or recordkeeping system, keep the records for the longest retention period authorized for those items.

8. Is this schedule only for paper records?

No. This schedule applies to records regardless of their physical form or characteristics. Records may be maintained in any format on any medium.
